ENCOURAGING OUTLOOK FOR CONSERVATIVE CAUSE

Leader Borden Says Satisfactory Reports Come From All Points

MEETS ONTARIO CONSERVATIVES

George W. Fowler, M. P., Says Mr. McBride Can Hold This Province as Long as He Likes.

Toronto, June 21.—R. L. Borden, the opposition leader, arrived in Toronto yesterday morning to attend the conference of the Ontario Conservative members. A large and enthusiastic gathering greeted the leader, who gave an address of encouragement, expressing confidence in the outlook for the Conservative party in the coming federal election.

"Reports in general are very gratifying," said Mr. Borden. "I came here to meet the Ontario Conservatives with a view of ascertaining how organization was proceeding, and also to find out what the intentions were as regards holding meetings. The prospects are very encouraging, and judging from reports which reach us continually from all parts of the Dominion, we are satisfied that the present administration is getting more unpopular with the people."

Mr. Borden in the course of his conversation also said:

"There was a promise made at the last session that there would be another session before another election, and this promise cannot be broken without a breach of faith, of which I have no reason to believe that Sir Wilfrid Laurier would be guilty."

Mr. Fowler's Opinion

Montreal, June 21.—"I did not leave the province to get rid of the Emmermann case. I had left before the papers were served on the Gleaner. I had nothing, in fact, to do with the case, as the lawyers for the defense are quite capable of looking after Crockett's interest."

The foregoing statement was made by G. W. Fowler, M. P., who took the train for Quebec en route for New Brunswick. Mr. Fowler seemed to be delighted with the present turn of events. He says that Premier McBride, of British Columbia, is king of the coast, and will hold the province just as long as he likes.

Duke of Devonshire Ill

Ascot, June 21.—The Duke of Devonshire, ex-Lord President of the Council, was overcome by heart trouble at the Ascot track. He was taken to Windsor Castle, and thence in an ambulance to Devonshire house.

For Chinese Sufferers.

Toronto, June 21.—Rev. Dr. Somerville will send a cheque for $2,000 to Shanghai tomorrow for the relief of Chinese famine sufferers. This makes about $20,000 sent by him.

ONTARIO KING'S COUNSEL

Large Number of Barristers Mentioned for the Honor

Toronto, June 21.—One of the duties which the Provincial Government has to get off its hands before Premier Whitney leaves for his old country trip on July 1, is the appointment of King's counsel.

Among those who have been recommended are: Toronto—Charles Millar, E. J. Horn, N. C. Ash, W. V. Middleton, J. R. L. Starr, G. A. Masten, E. W. J. Owens, R. J. Neville, L. McCarthy, Seymour Gorley, Claude Macdonald, M. P., St. James Baird, A. L. D. Geary Percy Moore, H. B. Elliot, E. T. Essery, N. P. Graydon, R. G. Fisher.

Hamilton—S. D. Rizzgar, John Gault, F. R. Waddell, J. G. Farmer.

Windsor—Ernest Wigle, A. St. George Ellis, J. W. Hanna and O. E. Fleming.

Guelph—J. J. Drew and W. H. Cullen.

The entire list contains about 20 names, but it is hardly likely that a majority of these will get the title.

AMBASSADOR AOKI.

His Removal Not Considered Likely at Tokio.

Tokio, June 21.—While there is an unanimity of opinion here that Ambassador Aoki is unfitted for his present position at Washington, and it is certain that attempts have been made to remove him, he has powerful political support, and moreover being the senior of Viscount Hayashi, the foreign minister, in the diplomatic service, it would be a delicate matter for the latter to recall him. Unless strong proof can be furnished that Ambassador Aoki is persona non grata at Washington it is not likely that Viscount Hayashi will take the initiative in removing him.

There are rumors, however, to the effect that the Japanese ambassador is unpopular not only with the Japanese, but among the Americans generally, and should this prove true his removal might be deemed necessary, despite the strong influences now supporting him there.

CROPS ON PRAIRIES MAKE GOOD PROGRESS

Weather Conditions Are Very Favorable—Hay Promises Large Yield

Regina, June 21.—Good hot growing weather, interspersed with warm showers, has brought the spring wheat on at a surprising rate during the present week, and it is now at least as forward as at the same date last year.

A striking feature is the evenness of the growth, the shoots being sturdy and of good color. With present conditions, crops this year promise to establish a new record. Grass has never looked better, and the hay crop will be exceptionally heavy. Farmers are going in a great deal more for stock, and the fodder shortage of last winter will lead to a great deal more hay being put up than last year. Unless heavy rains lead to a rush growth, the hay should all be guaranteed by the end of July. Roots are looking well, but went in somewhat late.

FOUR BURNED TO DEATH

Victims of Fire on a St. John River Steamer

St. John, N. B., June 21.—Four men burned to death and half a dozen persons badly hurt is the record of a disaster at Cole's Island last night, when the steamer Crystal Stream was totally destroyed. D. J. Piracy, M. P. P. of St. John, is the principal owner.

Hay is now twenty dollars a ton, and as up-river farms are selling all they can spare, the steamer was heavily loaded with this inflammable cargo.

FIRE SWEEPS THROUGH TEMAGAMI FORESTS

Timber in Many Square Miles Destroyed and Prospectors Suffer Loss

Toronto, June 21.—That a million dollars' worth of timber belonging to the province has been destroyed that dozens of prospectors have been entirely cleaned out, and that in all probability some lives have been lost, is the story of the forest fires in the north, told by R. R. Gamey, M. L. A.

Mr. Gamey arrived in this city yesterday morning from Latchford. He was on his way to his lot in James township when he met his men coming out, driven out by the smoke and danger.

"Most of the James township is gone," he declared, "and also the lower quarter of Smith's, the west half of Tudhope and a big area of the reserve across the Montreal river. From the Montreal river to the railway is twenty-five miles, and it is possible that some prospectors may have got out off. With their supplies cut off, they could do nothing but wait, and perhaps the wait would be too long."

"I met a prospector at Latchford yesterday who had jumped into the river and escaped with his life. Another poor fellow who had taken about two tons of stuff into his camp in a canoe was completely wiped out."

An Official Report.

Toronto, June 21.—The forest fires in James township are out, according to a telegram received by the crown lands department from Chief Fire Ranger Macdonald, who with his special rangers was dispatched to the scene. The ravage wrought by the flames in the district is briefly reported to be very serious, but no detailed estimate of the damage is yet to hand. The chief ranger also reports that fire swept over five miles of the crown reserve between Silver Lake and Bear Lake, but the timber destroyed was almost entirely jack pine, and very little good pine is gone. Hon. Frank Cochrane is sending special men to the district to prepare a detailed estimate of the damage done.

BRITISH COLUMBIA HAS GOOD FRIENDS IN COMMONS

Second Reading of Subsidies Bill Unanimously Agreed to by House

PRAISE FOR PREMIER MCBRIDE

Several Speakers on Both Sides Refer to Case for Province—No Sign of Opposition

London, June 21.—The house of commons this afternoon unanimously passed the second reading of the British North America bill after a short but interesting debate, in which the following participated: H. W. Foster, opposition whip; Sir Frederick Banbury, Harnar Greenwood, Sir J. Jardine R. Duncan and Winston Churchill.

Several complimentary references were made to British Columbia, repeated tributes being paid to the loyalty of the province.

Both Mr. Greenwood and Mr. Churchill referred in appreciative terms to the position taken by premier McBride and the able manner in which he had represented the province.

No doubt it felt that the bill will pass through its remaining stages without difficulty in the shape described in a former despatch. There is no inclination shown in any quarter to seek its amendment and all parties agree in approving of the stand taken by Premier McBride on behalf of the province.

PROSECUTION BALKED IN EMMERSON CASE

Counsel Pugsley Says He Will Not Go on With Trial at Present Time

Fredericton, June 21.—The court opened in the famous Emmerson-Crockett case with the promise of a storm.

"I apply," said Mr. Pugsley, "for a commission for the examination of two witnesses, O'Brien and Foster."

"Does the motion include a motion for adjournment?" asked the judge.

"Yes," answered Mr. Pugsley, adding that the men were in England and Boston respectively. They were porters at the St. Lawrence Hall at the time of Mr. Emmerson's ejection, and the crown thinks that one of these porters apologized to Mr. Emmerson's lady friends and told them they need not to leave the hotel. The affidavit declared that it was not made for the purpose of delaying the trial.

Mr. Pugsley continued, and asked the judge to refer the matter to the Supreme court, which meets on August 10th. It was a question of law as to whether or not the judge should have overruled the demurrer. He held that a defendant had to do as to enter the box, give the source of his information, say that on reasonable grounds he believed the statements were true. There could be no successful prosecution for libel if this point was sustained.

"I said yesterday," said the judge, "that I was not convinced that the Gleaner publication was not in the public interest, but I am ready to make a stronger declaration. I believe it now to have been in the public interest."

This put Mr. Pugsley out somewhat.

J. Douglas Hazen combatted the application for a commission, and was prepared to submit affidavits to show that no such men were employed at the St. Lawrence Hall in June, 1906. This affidavit is made by John Lloyd, 35 years old, night clerk at the hotel.

Lloyd was put on the stand and denied positively that either of the men was at the hotel at the time in question.

Harry Dean, another porter, was also put in the witness box and swore that O'Brien was dead now, and Foster he never knew.

Judge Landry, after a lengthy argument from the opposing counsel, refused Mr. Pugsley's application for a commission to examine the missing witnesses. He said no good purpose would be served. As to referring the case to the Supreme court, he reserved his decision till Monday, adding significantly: "I would advise you to have your witnesses ready."

"I may tell Your Honor frankly," broke in Mr. Pugsley, "that in view of the strong feeling I have, if you refuse the application to refer the case to the Supreme court, I would feel it my duty before going to trial to exhaust every resource that the law offers. I may tell my learned friend that he need not have his witnesses here on Monday, as I will not go on then nor at this court."

"Do I understand that my learned friend will enter a nolle prosequi?" asked Mr. Hazen.

"No, I have made my statement. I do not propose to add to it or retract from it, so that ends it."

ALL RED SYSTEMS OF STEAMSHIP AND CABLE

Earl Grey's Statement to Ottawa Board of Trade—Col. Steele's New Post

Ottawa, June 21.—A new military district, No. 13, is created by detaching Alberta and MacKenzie from No. 10. Col. Steele is the first D.O.C. of the new district. His headquarters will be at Calgary. District No. 10 will consist of Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Keewatin, Thunder Bay and Rainy River.

The Ottawa board of trade today waited upon the governor general and presented an address of welcome upon his return from England. Reference was made to the "all red" steamship project and its corollary, a British state-owned cable system girdling the globe. Lord Grey, in replying, said the chief reason for his visit to England was to support Sir Wilfrid Laurier in his endeavor to impress upon the imperial government the importance of a fast Atlantic service. He believed such a line would be consummated. He also cordially supported the "all red" cable scheme and promised to send the board's memorial to the Colonial Secretary in order that it might be laid before the king and also forwarded to the governments interested.

The following new customs outposts will be established: British Columbia, on July 1st, Sidney, under Victoria; Chappala and Myncaster, under Greenwood; also Carcross under Whitehorse.

Hon. Mr. Templeman has returned to the capital after an enjoyable trip down the Gulf on a government steamer.

Guelph, Ont., June 21.—Clarence Battle, the G. T. R. newsboy who on April 25 was charged with a breach of the new Lord's Day Act, has been convicted and a nominal fine imposed. The Attorney General refused to make a stated case as requested by James Daverson, K. C.

San Francisco, June 21.—The telegraph operators in the employ of the Western Union and Postal companies here and at Oakland struck at 1 p. m. today. This strike will be purely local and will not affect the eastern offices. President Small, of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union is in conference with the local committee. He said the statement issued yesterday by President Clowery, of the W. U. Telegraph Company, will make no difference so far as the situation here is concerned.

AGITATION IN FRANCE GROWS MORE ACUTE

Feeling Over Shooting Affair at Narbonne Gives Rise to Threats

Paris, June 21.—The government was interpellated in the Chamber of Deputies today on the measures which it proposed to take in order to restore order in the south.

Premier Clemenceau in the course of his reply said that over one hundred soldiers were wounded in the fighting with rioters yesterday at Narbonne. He then fully confirmed the statements of the Associated Press in regard to the mutiny of a battalion of the 17th Infantry at Adge, and its march to Beziers, and said he could not listen to any proposition for the conditional surrender of the mutineers. The Premier concluded by demanding a vote of confidence.

The opposition deputies fiercely attacked the government, saying the cuirassiers acted like Cossacks, that the troops fired without provocation and without notification, that women and children had been slaughtered and that the release of M. Ferroul, ex-Mayor of Narbonne alone would restore order. Otherwise, according to one of the speakers, the bloody rioting of today will be the revolution of tomorrow.

General Baillood with artillery and other troops proceeded to Beziers in order to compel the unconditional surrender of the mutineers who are now said to number 607 men.

Beziers, France, June 21.—General Baillood arrived here tonight and after an interview with the mutineers the latter decided to return to their regiments.

EVIDENCE FOR STATE IS ALL BEFORE JURY

Defence Presents Request That Court Order Haywood's Acquittal

ORCHARD'S RECEIPT OF MONEY

Telegrams and Bank Documents Submitted—Evidence of a Denver Horse Dealer

Boise, June 21.—The trial of William D. Haywood for the murder of ex-Governor Frank Steunenberg was resumed here today at 9.30 a. m.

Senator Borah announced that the state had received information from the First National Bank of Denver fixing the date of one of the drafts which have been introduced in evidence, and upon which the date has been punched out by the file in the bank. This draft was for $100 and the bank wired that it bears the date of December 21st, 1905. It was drawn in favor of J. L. Simpkins by Haywood.

The letter produced in court from Pettibone, received by Orchard while in jail at Caldwell, stated that "That" had been "sent to Jack." Orchard said he had asked for $100. The defense admitted prima facie that the date was December 21, and the date was recorded as evidence.

W. V. McCartney, former clerk in the telegraph office at Denver, testified that he did not write the waiver of identity on the back of the telegraphic money orders sent from Denver to Orchard, when on the Bradley mission in San Francisco.

G. S. Kingsley, an attorney of Boise, qualified as an expert in handwriting. He was asked to compare Pettibone's signature on the letter replying to the insurance agent in Denver who asked as to the character of Orchard, with the signature of "Wolf" and "P. Bone" on the back of the telegraphic money orders. Kingsley said that in his opinion the signatures were written by one and the same person. He was not cross-examined.

Jim Seaborn, a colored horse dealer of Denver, testified to the sale of a horse and buggy to Haywood in Denver. Orchard had testified as to the sale of the team to Haywood. Seaborn said that Orchard and he drove to Pettibone's store, and the three drove to a place he described as the location of the headquarters of the Western Federation of Miners.

Orchard went upstairs and came down with another man, who went into the buggy," the witness said. "They said they would be back soon, and drove off together."

The negro identified Haywood as the third member of the party.

It was the first direct connection of Haywood with Orchard. He said Orchard paid him $100 for the outfit, but the bill of sale was made to Pettibone. Cross-examined, he said he met Orchard at the penitentiary after coming to Boise. He said he was summoned by Pinkerton detectives and he received his fare and expenses from them in advance.

Senator Borah, then stated that with the exception of proving the sending of a money order for $75 by the Western Union from Haywood in Denver to Steve Adams, in Ogden, Utah, in 1907, the State's case was closed.

Mr. Richardson for the defence said that they would agree that the state should file the telegrams as soon as they were received. Senator Borah said that the telegram would be here by tonight.

"With this exception, your Honor," said Senator Borah, "the State is ready to close its case."

There was some wrangling over the reading of a long opinion delivered in the Colorado courts on the Moyer Habeas corpus case and which the defence said should be read, as it had been ordered as evidence for the state. Judge Wood denied the motion that it be read to the jury.

This closed the state's case and at 10:25 the court adjourned until 1:30 p. m., when the defence moved that the court instruct the jury to render a verdict of "not guilty."

MANUFACTURERS COMPLAIN.

Want More Skilled Labor and Extension of French Tariff.

Toronto, June 21.—Dissatisfaction was expressed at the regular monthly meeting of the executive council of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association with what was termed the continued policy of the government in reference to the importation of skilled labor. The executive felt that the extensive use that has already been made of the employment bureau in London demonstrates the absolute necessity for more skilled help if the industries of Canada are to take care of the business offering.

The association has also been trying to secure the benefit of the French minimum tariff for more Canadian products than at present enjoy it. The Canadian section of the British Chamber of Commerce at Paris has been communicated with in regard to the extension of the Franco-Canadian treaty of 1903, but it is believed that the quid pro quo, which France would likely demand, would result in strenuous opposition to the proposal in certain quarters. Should legislation along this line be introduced by Mr. Fielding at the next session, the association will make its feelings better known.

LORD KITCHENER AT WORK ON INDIAN ARMY

Immense Improvement Made in the Force Under His Direction

June 21.—Four strenuous years for the Army of India have gone by since the night when Lord Kitchener, then recently arrived from Europe, stood waiting at the Delhi railway station for a cab to take him to the principal unit of the command to which he had been appointed.

That unit had been collected from 20 different centres for manoeuvres connected with the Delhi Durbar. The men knew neither each other nor their leaders. The transport, the guns, and the supplies had been brought together only for this occasion. When the Durbar was over they returned to the widely scattered centres from which they had been drawn. Battalions belonging to the same brigade were distributed among stations a thousand miles apart.

Even the companies of one regiment could not always drill together. The force was approximately two divisions but it could not have been taken the field as such, for it lacked cohesion. It was not a field force, but a collection of badly co-ordinated parts; and it was typical of the stage which had been reached in the evolution of the Army in India, while owing splendidly to the wisdom and energy of its leaders, it was in a position to extract the full benefit from these valuable possessions. Modern armament existed, but it was distributed about the country, not in accordance with the requirements of the warfare of today, but very much as had happened to be convenient fifty years ago when creaking bullock carts were the chief means of locomotion, and when the railways that now form a network over the entire country were practically unknown. The whole system belonged to pre-Military days.

Nine self-contained divisions. The task which lay before the then new Indian Commander-in-Chief was one worthy of him, and it has been attacked with characteristic resource and energy. Lord Kitchener has relaxed none of the efforts of his predecessors to maintain and improve the personnel and equipment. At the same time he has brought to bear the driving force that has made him famous upon the more difficult achievement of building up an army, in the modern sense of that term, out of what was before a collection of troops.

The work is proceeding rapidly. Last year His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales saw at manoeuvres four divisions, complete with transport and guns, that could have gone upon service without altering a button. Today the entire forces of India are in process of consolidation into nine self-contained divisions, each complete in itself, each habitually trained as a unit in one area, as far as possible under the officers who will command it in time of war. The Indian Army List already shows these divisions in healthy and suitable localities upon the railways, which are the new lines of communication; but the redistribution of troops and the reorganization of commands and administration necessarily take time. The money, however, has been found. The Indian and home governments have agreed to the main changes that are involved. The troops are moving into their new locations as fast as accommodation can be provided. The rearrangement at headquarters is already in working order, and if the present rate of progress can be maintained the year 1911 will see the entire reorganization completed.

A Quarter of a Million Strong.

The total armed forces of India, excluding reserves and volunteers, amount to some 350,000 men—namely, 72,000 British troops; 158,000 Indian troops, and 20,000 Imperial Service troops and transport. The whole will eventually have places in the new arrangement, and when a division moves off upon active service a sufficient garrison will replace it to maintain order locally, aided by the volunteers. Each division will be independent of the others, and each will be prepared to advance into the line as required. Enough transport has already been organized to supply four divisions. The balance exists in skeleton cadres that can be filled up by recruitment upon mobilization from already registered animals belonging to private owners. The rearmament of the horse and field batteries with quick-firing guns of the most modern type is well advanced, and will be completed in the official year 1907-08. Factories for making guns, rifles, ammunition, cord, and cartridges, and clothing already exist in India, and are being improved to become independent of help from Woolwich and Pimlico.

A staff organization has been formed at headquarters to be the brain of the army. An Indian Staff College has been started, where officers are receiving the special training so essential for intelligence duties and the handling of troops.

The difficulties which beset all new arrangements have not been absent, but they are being gradually overcome. The regrettable controversy which arose at the outset is now almost forgotten. The army's grievances over the increased wear and tear of its equipment, incurred in working to a higher standard of practical efficiency than he had previously known, have been met by the introduction of a sensible arrangement which takes the burden of such charges off the men and transfers it to the state.

Imperial Significance

Stringent economy over non-essentials is enabling funds to be found for much-needed strengthening of the establishment of British officers and for increasing the number and quality of allowances of underpaid men. The abolition of the old commands, which the introduction of the nine-division system has postulated, though an economy in itself, has increased instead of diminishing the opportunities of promotion, since it has enabled two Army Commands and six new Brigades to be brought into existence. Better value for the twenty millions sterling, which is the Indian taxpayers' contribution to the defence of the Empire, has never previously been obtained.

A new spirit of enthusiasm is growing up in the Services. Anglo-Indian officers are beginning to realize that to build up an efficient Imperial Army is a bigger thing than to conquer a frontier tribe. The decentralization of finances, which is one of the features of the new arrangement, has introduced a steady sense of responsibility. For the first time in history military headquarters at Simla are against, instead of in favor of, a forward policy in the northwest border; since for the first time in history the fact has been brought home to them that money frittered away upon petty expeditions must be deducted from the funds available for something better. Causes of anxiety still exist. The compromise made two years ago over the question of the abolition of the dual system of control has the defects inherent in all half-and-half measures. So long, too, as the reorganization is not yet complete, there will be danger of irresponsible interference with it from political party motives. A goal, however, is in sight, such as has never before been there. A force is growing up in India, such as England herself neither owns at present nor is likely to possess for many years to come. The source of strength for the British Empire is being created, which will make for peace in the councils of the world.

ORCHESTRA WILL PLAY DURING VOYAGE HERE

Arrangements Are Completed for Prince Fushimi's Trip From Vancouver

An orchestra of ten pieces, composed of local musicians, will be sent to Vancouver to play on board the Princess Victoria during the voyage of that vessel from the Terminal city to Victoria, with Prince Fushimi on board tomorrow afternoon. Passing British Columbia as she rounds into Victoria harbor the Princess Victoria will be saluted from a battery of eighteen-pound field guns at Work Point, and while the guns are still belching a salute the steamer will reach the Belleville street wharf at 5:30 p. m. There Lieutenant-Governor Dunscombe and members of the official committee which is to welcome the prince and his suite will receive his Imperial highness. A guard of honor of 125 members of the Fifth Regiment C. A. selected from each of the three companies, with the regimental band, will be assembled at the wharf to salute the prince and his suite as he leaves the Princess Victoria to be driven away to government house, where, together with his suite, he is to be the guest of the lieutenant governor during his stay here.

The cruiser Monmouth, which was detached from the China squadron and sent across 4,000 miles of ocean to carry Prince Fushimi home as a mark of the friendship of King Edward for his ally, is being renovated in a most thorough manner for the reception of the distinguished passenger. The cabin of Captain Fuke is being altered and improved, and furnished more elaborately. Yesterday the cruiser finished coaling. But 1,500 tons were taken on board instead of the 2,000 tons ordered, the cruiser having had 700 tons of Welsh coal remaining in her bunkers when she arrived here.

On Sunday the Monmouth will be in Victoria. It is expected that a large number of people will visit the warship then, the first day on which she is thrown open to visitors.

C. P. R. Bridge Burnt

Winnipeg, June 21.—Bush fires are raging about the district of Dauphin and are causing the settlers considerable worry. The fires have been burning for several days, and reached the bridge crossing the small stream near Poulin. The bridge was burned down and all through traffic on the C. P. R. consequently delayed.

ONTARIO FRUIT MEN AFTER THE MARKET

Take Action to Meet Competition of the British Columbia Product

The manner in which British Columbia fruit has been capturing the markets of the middle west has alarmed the fruit growers of Ontario. At the session of the Co-operative Fruit Growers' association of Ontario in Toronto recently it was decided to undertake a system of extensive advertising in the markets of the west and to establish one or more agencies in Winnipeg and the west in order to bring the association into closer touch with the buyers there. It was debated whether or not the association should place a couple of traveling agents there also and this will likely be adopted another season.

British Columbia fruit has been displacing the Ontario article for some time. In British Columbia more attention is paid to packing the fruit and as a consequence it arrives in better shape. The fruit is moreover of a better quality for in this province fruit growing is made a specialty whereas in Ontario it is generally carried on by mixed farmers.

The local fruit growing agencies are alive to the necessity of paying attention to the market of the middle west. It was for that reason that they have co-operated so readily with the local tourist association in establishing fruit exhibits in Winnipeg, Brandon, Regina and Moose Jaw at the approaching exhibitions in those centres. At the next convention of fruit growers of the province, the problem of conducting an organized propaganda will be considered.

Their Canadian Homes

London, June 21.—In the House of Commons John Burns, in reply to a labor member in reference to a girl of eight years being sent to Canada by the Paddington Guardians, stated that when he was in Canada eighteen months ago he looked into the question of the education of children from pauper and industrial schools, and he was more than pleased at the excellent homes to which the majority of the children were sent. In this case he was satisfied the child was being sent to a good home.

Fire at San Francisco.

San Francisco, June 20.—Fire tonight destroyed several dry goods houses in Van Ness avenue, near Sacramento street, causing a loss estimated to be $200,000. It was in this section that the Market street merchants took refuge after the fire that followed the earthquake of April, 1906. The buildings were of wood and were constructed under a special two-year permit, and their flimsy structure was easy fuel for the flames, which spread with great rapidity. The firemen had a hard fight, but finally conquered. The origin of the fire is unknown.

This is the third disastrous fire in the business section within a few weeks.

VICTORIA CHARMS ORANGE DELEGATES

Party Who Came Over From Vancouver Last Evening Delighted

A party of 65 delegates to the session of the Grand Orange lodge of British America, which has just concluded in Vancouver arrived in Victoria last evening on the Princess May and spent the early portion of the night sight-seeing, as the guests of the local Orangemen. They were taken about the city in trolley-cars, four of which were used for the purpose. The trip wound up at the parliament buildings, which were specially lighted for them on orders from Acting-Premier Tatlow. The visitors, practically all of whom are from Ontario and the eastern province in general, were very much impressed with the beauty of the buildings and also of the city, so much so with that of the latter that many of them were heard to express a desire to come here to live if only they could arrange their interests in the East to permit of their doing so. Most of the visitors will leave for Vancouver again this morning, although a number of them as can be seen will remain over here for a day or so.

Among the party were William Lee, of Toronto, secretary of the Imperial Grand Orange Council of the world, who also holds the positions of secretary of the Grand Lodge of British America and of the Grand Lodge of Ontario, West; H. W. Chenery, of Toronto, past grand master of the Royal Black Preceptory of British America; William T. Edgecombe, of Winnipeg, secretary of the Grand Black Preceptory and assistant secretary of the Grand Orange lodge of British America, to both of which positions he was elected at the sessions in Vancouver; James P. Harper, of Hamilton, Ont., grand master of the Royal Black Preceptory of British America; Capt. William Crawford, of the Toronto fire department and district master of Toronto Centre district Orange lodge; W. J. McCausland, of Toronto, grand lecturer of the Grand Orange Lodge of Ontario, West; Col. J. H. Scott, of Walkerton, Ont., past lecturer of the Grand Orange Lodge of Ontario, West; John McMillan, past grand master of Ontario west; Controller H. G. Hocken, of Toronto, editor of the Orange Sentinel; Clarkson W. James, of Toronto, private secretary to Hon. Dr. Pyne, minister of education for Ontario; Rev. William Walsh, of Brampton, chaplain of the Royal Black Preceptory and of the Grand Orange Lodge of British America and now of the Grand Orange Lodge of Ontario west; Emory T. Essery, of London, Ont., grand master of Ontario west; George Boyce of Merivale, Ont., grand master of Ontario east; William M. Lockhart, past grand secretary of Ontario west; A. R. Carmichael of Stratheona, Alta.; W. M. Miller, of Toronto, and many other prominent members of the order.

SUPPOSED SUICIDE CAUSES EXCITEMENT

Drunk Disrobes at Water's Edge, Giving Rise to Wild Rumors

A suicide mystery disturbed the police for a considerable time early this morning. Firstly, a constable reported that a man had been seen rushing madly to the Hudson's Bay wharf on the inner harbor without hat or coat. Secondly a pair of trousers was found at the edge of the wharf, turned as though removed hurriedly.

"Suicide," said the constable and he telephoned for assistance.

With drag nets, ropes and appliances to drag the harbor the constables descended upon the wharf. Near the Barnes house a pair of suspenders was found twisted on the cemented sidewalk. Near the new Pither & Leiser building a coat and waistcoat was found. The mystery deepened.

"Were there any rings to indicate that someone had made a hole in the water when you found the pants?" queried one of the Monseigneur Lecons.

"Was there any note left on the edge of the wharf?" asked another Sherlock.

"Let's search the pockets," said another.

They did and found some letters. The residence of the gentleman was visited. He had not been there. His bed remained undisturbed and it was morning.

Sure, it's a case for the coroner, thought the constables. Ultimately the mystery was solved. It seems that the owner of the suit of clothes which were scattered as a schoolboy throws the trail in a paper chase was parading a la Lady Godiva before the sun rose. He was found in a down town hotel sleeping off the effects of the glad waters that filled him. But he was unable to get back home until the constables delivered the clothes they found.

Finds Good Ore.

John Bentley a mining man who has returned from the Bugaboo Iron Mines on the west coast of Vancouver Island and where he has been carrying out the annual assessment of the Iron Alice Mineral Group situated on Lorimer creek, Port Renfrew. He reports having struck the ore at several different points on the Iron Alice. The ore is of an excellent quality being free from impurity and is high grade. It is practically the same in appearance as the ore found on the Bentley Iron Mining Co. property and the "Conqueror" at Bugaboo Creek. The assessment work and surveying on both the Bentley Iron Mining Company and the Iron Master group of mineral claims will be commenced at once with a view to obtaining crown grants as soon as possible. The trails are out of condition just now but the miners in the district expect they will be cleared soon. Mr. Bentley will leave July 1 with the survey party and join his partner, J. W. McGregor, who is at the present time accompanying E. Lindeman, the Swedish iron expert, over the whole of the property owned by Messrs. Bentley and McGregor and their associates.

TAX LAND VALUES.

Change in System in Scotland Is Likely to Cause Trouble.

Edinburgh, June 20.—Apparently because some people in the name of Scotland put forth the first legislation propositions for the taxation of land values. Scotland is to be the medium of determining whether urban land can be efficiently and equitably valued apart from the subjects on it. Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman is authority for the statement that the solution of the urban problem can be found in a measure for the separate valuation of land apart from the buildings and improvements with a view to the rearrangement of the rating system in urban areas. Mr. Winston Churchill himself thinks that reform needs only "one bold stroke." In that case the "Land Valuation Bill" introduced into the House of Commons by the Lord Advocate must be regarded as merely a preliminary step.

The system of values by annual rental as at present carried on in Scotland is tolerably well understood. It is said to work very well upon the whole, but the numerous appeals against the valuations of the assessors every year show that it does not work so harmoniously as many statesmen are accustomed to assume.

The Power of Piano Music.

A piano ceases to be an instrument and becomes a thing of life under the hands of a master. It breathes every human emotion under his fingers and no other instrument so perfectly lends itself to the many phases of musical expression. Of course the instrument itself must be a good one, such as the New Scale Williams Piano, foremost in Canada to-day.

RUSSELL HOTEL SOLD

New Westminster Property Taken Over by New Brunswick Man

New Westminster, June 21.—Following the decision made by the board of license commissioners at the meeting Wednesday night, granting a liquor license for the new hotel Russell, a deal which had been in progress for some time was closed yesterday, and E. J. Fader has sold his interest in the business to C. J. Tabor, of Woodstock, N. B.

The deal which was put through by Hale & Lane, would have been concluded some time ago had a license been secured, as the whole transaction hinged in the action of the commission in granting Mr. Fader's application. Mr. Tabor is well known in Woodstock, having conducted one of the finest and most up-to-date hotels in New Brunswick, and will run the Russell on the same business principles which have made him popular in that part of the world. No change will be made regarding the furnishing and specifications of the hotel. The work will be carried on the same as when Mr. Fader had charge, and the new building is expected to be ready for guests some time before the provincial exhibition opens.

TOUR THE WORLD IN FORTY DAYS

Now Possible To Circle the Globe in That Time

EVEN BETTER IN NEAR FUTURE

More Rapid Means of Communication Will Shorten the Trip

From Victoria to Victoria, around the world, the journey can now be made within forty days, using only the regularly established lines of communication. Starting from Victoria in one of the Empress steamers of the C. P. R., the globe-trotter reaches Yokohama in eleven days or less, and when the faster steamers are in service, about two years hence, the voyage will be possible in eight days. After traveling from Yokohama by the slow train of the Aomori railway, to North Japan, the traveler finds himself on the wharf at Aomori waiting the sailing of the Tsuruga-Vladivostok company's steamer Manchuria, upon which he reaches Vladivostok 36 hours later, and when the two fast Japanese steamers now under construction are on this run, the trip will be made in 24 hours. At Vladivostok the express train of the Compagnie Internationale des Wagons-Lits et des Grand Expresses Europeens is waiting and the journey across Siberia and Europe to The Hague is made in eighteen days. A fast ferry of an English railway company lands the voyager in London in six hours, and the fast Scotch express carries him northward to Liverpool, where the R. M. S. Empress of Ireland, a 24-knot liner, is waiting, that is, if the journey has been arranged in keeping with the schedules of the fast vessels, and Quebec is reached in 4 days 14 hours, and Victoria 100 hours later. The circuit of the globe has been made in forty days.

In 10 days 10 hours by the watch, but 11 days by the calendar, the white liner is an anchor in Yokohama roadstead, and sampans and launches form a flotilla round about. The quarantine regulations, customs, etc., are satisfied quickly, and without delay the hurrying traveler is in a launch hurrying to the habo, where a waiting ricksha-puller wonders at the hurry of the traveler, but goes with no faster speed than if the traveler was not anxious for speed.

The jogging rickshaman drags the traveler through crowded streets, where Japanese in foreign clothes, with silk hats, wearing the kimono from whose edges russet shoes are seen, shuffling, among the foreign population and the Japanese who jog along on their teakwood clogs, where little freight cars are drawn by men and women instead of horses, through a way with high walls, and a line of houses and open-fronted stores with great ultramarine blue shades decked with striking white geometric signs, arched roof of stone and bronze partitioned in greenery, as they mark the entrance to a temple behind the crowded street front, curved bridges over crowded canals where flotillas of cargo-filled junks deliver the freight from the steamers in the roadstead—these and many other novel sights interest the globe-trotter until the "Kuruma" draws up at the Hiruana station a ship to allow the modern Phineas Fogg to embark for the north. The Tokaido express traverses the first of Japanese railways, built in 1872 to connect Yokohama with Tokyo, and skirts the greatest city of Asia, to Akabane junction, 6 1-2 miles north of Tokyo, whence it runs to Aomori, 457 miles away to the north of the Mikado's empire.

The railway follows closely the old highway, the Tetsudo, used by the daimyos in their travels of oldtime days. The northern road is one of the finest in the Empire. It is lined with pines, cryptomerias and conifers, and can be seen from the windows of the railway carriage after the train passes Utsunomiya, the junction for picturesque Nikko. Past villages of wattle, rivers with picturesque junks, and bridges with the blue peaks of Fuji away hills showing in the distance, past old feudal castles, the traveler hurries from town to town, from village to village, his only knowledge of which must be that gained from the carriage window. Fellow travelers point out where the battles of the Daimyos were fought, where the principal silk-producing districts are, the famous volcanoes, Azuma where 82 men who were digging sulphur were engulfed in 1900, Sendai and its river-side castle part destroyed in the civil war of 1868, its modern prison that is one of the largest in Japan. All these sights are seen only from the train.

There is an excellent sleeper and dining car attached to the train, and at many stations the "bento" sellers come to the train selling boxes of sandwiches made in European style and small cigar-box like packages of rice and dalkon, much sought by the Japanese. Mineral waters in bottles are sold in small earthenware tea pots which are sold with the tea they hold and a small terra-cotta cup, the whole for three yen, which is 1 1/2 cents. Aomori is reached in fifteen hours from Yokohama, and here, where the sealers ride at anchor ready to harry the Russian coasters at Copper Island or to sail to Bering sea in pursuit of fur seals, the Russian steamer Manchuria is waiting. She leaves the Tsuruga straits every Saturday. There are also the steamer Mongolia and two Japanese steamers on different schedules, which in case the traveler is delayed he can make connections with. Fifteen dollars is to be paid for fare to Vladivostok, scarcely more than 400 miles away, and in 36 hours the Manchuria lands at the townsite, the Russian port in Asia.

The traveler has now used 13 1/2 days of his forty, and is about to commence the long and tedious railway journey across Asia. The difficulties of the Russian language are not insurmountable for there is almost someone at hand to translate, and there are word and number other difficulties. The traveler must, of course, have provided himself with passports and be duly visted by Russian consuls, often there are no difficulties in the way when he purchases his ticket for Holland in the Vladivostok station and the Russian porter grabs his suitcase—his only baggage. The train is a good one, with dining cars which are converted at night into social rooms, being provided with piano, library, etc.

Vladivostok is a place whose approaches are picturesque. The entrance is through an eastern Bosphorus which opens into a fine landlocked bay—the Bay of the Golden Horn, on which lies Vladivostok. The customs officials are rigorous in their examination here, and the voyager is searched to see if he has brought tobacco, spirits, arms, or worse still, revolutionary papers. There are many steamers in the roadstead, more spread along the waterfront discharging at the wharves, and a constant flotilla of lighters engaged in transferring goods from the vessels anchored in the bay. There is also a large fleet of sampans manned by Chinese. The main street is the Svetlanskaya Ulica, with substantial buildings and stores, market places, bars, etc. The residence of the governor of the port, the Russian commandant, the fort and other official buildings are on this street, which is a fine wide one and ranks high among the streets of the east. The bustle of the white man contrasts here with the languid Chinese-Korean, but the globe-trotter is not to be deterred by the quasi-European city with its crowded native suburbs, its restaurants and theatres. He hurries in a drosky to the railway station where a post is marked with those odd Russian characters: Vladivostok to St. Petersburg, 9922 versts.

This distance can be traversed in eighteen days with improved service it is expected soon to make the journey in much faster time. Through North Manchuria the Harbin branch makes its way, and the express of the Wagon-Lits. On the train a gaudy Russian, who prides himself on his English, tells the traveler that it was due to Voltaire's fertile brain that the Trans-Siberian railway had its being. In 1761, Voltaire wrote to Count Schuvalov "that it ought to be possible to travel from Russia direct to China without having to cross the sea." The first train to pass, just as one can go from St. Petersburg to Paris without leaving the plain." At Harbin, the Chinese-eastern branch from Port Arthur, since the war operated by Japanese, joins the mainland, and again at Omon the Amur branch is added, and the train proceeds across Trans-Baikal and by fast car-ferry the big waterway to join again the fast train at Irkutsk.

Siberia resembles Russia only in its immensity, its loneliness and its duration of winter. For the most part, Asia, and the Russian settlements seen along places, at least for the first part of the journey. Some of the larger towns are quite metropolitan, in fact Irkutsk has quite an American appearance, with its electric lights, etc. There are many churches, and seven can be seen from the Cathedral square at Irkutsk. They are all alike, painted blue and surmounted by a large cupola, surrounded by smaller ones, gilded or covered with silver-paint. The streets are bad, but what does concern the traveler is that there is no time to journey through the Siberian towns. There is no time for him to see the university at Tomsk, the theatres of Irkutsk, Krasnoyarsk, or Tomsk, even though Shakespeare's "Tempest of the Shrew" is now being done in both Irkutsk and Tomsk. There are cities of over 50,000 people, but there are but five other places of the vast territory with over 10,000 from beyond Lake Balkal to the Ural where the train enters Russia. Soon the traveler has his first sight of the Kamlen, a view long to be remembered. Soon too, he is in Berlin, then Paris, and before long waiting in a rattling train at the Hook of Holland until the 20 knot cross-channel steamer is ready to start. A few hours later not half a day has passed, and he is in Lime Street in a cab bound to the Mersey. R. M. S. Empress of Ireland is about to start across the Pacific, and in four days he is one of 1500 people debarked at Quebec where the fast "Overseas Mail" special waiting to carry him westward across Canada, with its priorities, its great golden fields and snowy mountains, 95 hours to Vancouver where the 22 knot ferry steamer Princess Victoria lands him in Victoria within two hours of the forty days set as the time in which he was to circle the world.

Now faster steamers are being built for the Pacific ocean journey, and Japanese yard has under construction fast flyers for the Tsuruga-Vladivostok run. Improvements and cut-offs are being made to the Trans-Siberian, and the governments are arranging to subsidize 25 knot steamers to quicken the Atlantic voyage, so that before long the circuit of the world will be possible in little more than a month.

SCHMITZ WANTS BAIL

Counsel Apply to Court of Appeals For Writ.

San Francisco, June 20.—Schmitz' attorneys tonight applied to the district court of appeals for his release on bail by writ of habeas corpus. Sixteen showings are made in the petition. His attorneys declare that Schmitz is suffering from an incurable disease, and that imprisonment in a jail will cause his death. It is understood that the disease referred to is an affection of the kidneys and that it has advanced to a serious stage. The petition alleges that the section of the penal code under which Schmitz was ordered into custody is unconstitutional, in that the petitioner is deprived of his liberty without due process of law. The petition further alleges that imprisonment of Schmitz by the district court of appeals is a punishment of a conspiracy by Rudolph Spreckels and others, through a coercive power over the board of supervisors who have confessed their guilt of bribery, to usurp the office of mayor and secure full political control of the affairs of San Francisco by removing all appointive officers of the city by arbitrary, illegal and revolutionary means.

By reason of the grave and serious questions that must arise from carrying out such a scheme the petitioner urges that the facts alleged constitute such extraordinary circumstances as will justify the court as a matter of discretion in admitting the petitioner to bail.

PAINS IN THE BACK OVER THE KIDNEYS

Told of Diseased Kidneys, and the Cure Was Effected by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills

Severe headaches, backache, spells of blindness and dizziness were some of the symptoms of this case of kidney disease, the cure of which is described below.

Miss Della McDermont, 373 Main street, Moncton, N. B., writes: "For some time my mother could not walk across the floor or stoop over because the pains in her back just over the kidneys were so severe. She had severe headaches, backache, spells of blindness and dizziness, and tried many medicines without obtaining relief. The doctors of our town said that the trouble was due to the turn of life."

"A lady friend advised mother to try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and by the time she had used two boxes of this medicine she was perfectly cured, and the old trouble has never returned."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills regulate the action of the liver, kidneys and bowels, one pill a dose in a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

YUKON PIONEERS DEAD.

Well-Known Gold Hunters of Early Days Die at Dawson.

Dawson, June 4. (Special Correspondence).—Joseph M. Hutton, a well-known pioneer of Skagway and Dawson died Tuesday of acute gastritis. He will be buried tomorrow under the auspices of the Dawson Aerle of Eagles.

Hutton was one of the pioneers of the North. For years he was proprietor of the celebrated Mug restaurant in Skagway during the great Klondike rush, and later was proprietor of the Mondamin hotel in the same town. He came to Dawson in 1901, and had been in business here ever since.

George M. Burke, a prominent Klondike mining operator, accidentally killed himself at Punta Arenas, Straits of Magellan, South America. He was breaking a revolver, when the cartridge "stuck" and exploded. The ball penetrated the cheek and the brain and Burke died immediately. Mrs. Burke, who was with him at the time, arrived just in time to attend the funeral.

Burke was one of the most successful of Klondike miners. He made his start here by working for wages on claim No. 1, Eldorado, then owned by Thomas Lippy, now of Seattle, the richest individual operator who ever worked in the Klondike. After working a short time for Lippy, Burke, one day in 1898, asked some of his companions on the claim to go with him to French Hill, above the Lippy claim, and look for ground to stake. The other boys laughed at Burke. He was determined and looked over the field. Burke found that by mischance all the stakers had left a corner of 100 feet square vacant next to discovery on French Hill. Burke staked, applied and got the ground. He sank a shaft, and the very first pan he took from his ground yielded him $70.75. The pans ran about the same and he started in on the ground. He worked out the little "two by four" and made forty to fifty thousand clear. Then he bought heavily on Whiskey Hill, on Hunker, and made big profits there.

Three years ago Mr. and Mrs. Burke made a tour of the world, and returned to Dawson and spent the following summer. Mr. Burke owned a property here for sale, and afterward went to London. Then he went to South America, near the Straits of Magellan, and became interested in the placer mining there, and remained until his death.

Frank A. McKay was drowned in the Yukon river three miles below Dawson this morning. He was in a canoe, which overturned. Collin, a stoker was in the canoe at the time, and escaped by swimming ashore. McKay first held onto the canoe, and afterward attempted to swim. He sank before he could make shore.

The body has not been recovered. The canoe was last seen by Inkster floating down the river. The police have telegraphed to Forty-eight post to look out for the canoe and the body. McKay came to Dawson in 1898 as special constable in the mounted police. He owned mining property on Black hills, upper Bonanza and other places in the camp.

Lee Shore, a miner, was found dead in his bunk in Fortin's roadhouse, on Quartz Creek, at midnight Saturday. He is believed to have succumbed to heart disease.

The constable at Quartz was called, and placed in charge of the body. No papers were found on the man, but he was known among the miners, and a dead man's name and that of his former home, Auburn, Neb., were found tattooed on his arm. The remains were taken to Grand Forks today and interred there.

Character in Medicine

In medicine, as in every nature of human action, it is character that tells. Every prescription that Dr. A. W. Chase gave to his fellowmen is full of character, full of the honest, sterling character which made the grand old doctor respected, admired and obeyed by all who knew him. The integrity of Dr. Chase is shown in every one of his famous family medicines.

Canoeist's Death

Toronto, June 21.—After making a hard race for third place in the single blade tandem canoe race last night, Benjamin Buckel, 23 years old, succumbed to heart failure. At the close of the race, in which Buckel and H. W. Parker finished fourth, Buckel collapsed, upsetting the canoe. Buckel did not come to the surface, and was standing upright in the slime when found, 25 minutes later. When hopes of resuscitating were abandoned, Dr. Edmund King found that the water had been into the lungs and that death was due to over exertion.

THE BETTER TERMS BILL.

A special cable to the Colonist from London states that the amendment to the British North America Act, necessary to give effect to the resolutions passed by the Inter-provincial Conference, has passed its second reading unanimously, the words "final and unalterable" having been of course struck out. Our despatch tells us that several complimentary references were made to British Columbia and that Messrs. Hamar Greenwood and Winston Churchill complimented Mr. McBride upon the able manner in which he had handled the case for the province. This is very pleasant reading for British Columbians, except the few bitter partisans, who would rather see the rights of the province sacrificed than have a political opponent obtain any prestige. Mr. McBride's visit to London has been both directly and indirectly a great advantage to British Columbia.

MUNICIPAL MATTERS.

As the municipal elections are yet some months away the following observations will hardly be construed as being in the interest of any particular set of candidates for civic honors. In saying that the time has come when we must have new men at the head of municipal affairs, the Colonist expresses the very general opinion of the citizens. By this no reflection whatever is intended upon the gentlemen now filling the chairs of Mayor and Aldermen. They are all good citizens. They all desire to see the welfare of the city promoted by every possible means. They all give a great deal of their time and attention to the discharge of their public duties. They cannot be charged with making many grave errors. Their administration has been free from any scandals. But Victoria needs a change. There is such a thing as being too long in municipal office. Men get into ruts. No one knows this better than those in charge of newspapers. The brightest men, if allowed to keep along one line of work very long, get into ruts. Every editorial writer has to keep constantly on the alert to keep out of ruts, and he does not always succeed. When some one calls and suggests something that sets him off on a new line of thought, he is the most grateful of men. The City Council of Victoria has got down into a rut. Things are being done this year for no better reason than that something else was done last year, and there may be no necessary connection between the two things. Prize fighters have an excellent word to describe the condition into which the municipal body is getting. It is becoming "stale," which simply means that it is out of condition for the work cut out for it. Victoria has some very large matters before it. The city is growing rapidly, but nothing in comparison with what it will grow in the very near future. Heavy problems must be dealt with, and there is no use in endeavoring to disguise the fact that men, who have not had experience in large private matters, are not as a rule able to handle large public matters successfully.

In the city of Seattle they have local improvement clubs, composed of all the leading citizens. These clubs hold regular meetings at which are discussed all questions relating to the welfare of the city. They do not take much part in municipal elections, for the reason that these are run upon regular party lines generally speaking. In Victoria we might very well form such clubs, say one in each ward, or the city might be divided in some other way, so as to have one club for the business section, one for James Bay, one for the part of the city to which Fort Street is the principal thoroughfare, one taking in Spring Ridge, and the area reached by way of the Spring Ridge cars, one covering the area served by the Douglas street line, and one embracing Victoria West. This would give six clubs. They would not only be able to suggest lines of policy which the city council should be asked to follow and take the initiative in respect to work under the local improvement plan, but they would be the means of bringing new men to the front in municipal elections, into which they could enter, if they saw fit, because we do not introduce politics into such things.

We repeat that there is a great deal of important work to be done in Victoria, much of which will have to be authorized by a vote of the ratepayers. If such work is to be sanctioned, it must be in the hands of men, who will command public confidence, not as to their integrity, for happily there has never been any occasion to doubt the integrity of the members of the municipal government, but as to their ability to deal with large questions of a business character. In addition to what we have said, we take this opportunity of saying to men of large interests in Victoria that it is due to themselves and the city that they shall take a deep interest in municipal affairs and place their services at the disposal of their fellow citizens.

WILL THEY ACT?

As yet there has been no response to the suggestion of this paper that the Liberal Association of this city might make some advance to the Liberal-Conservative Association for the purpose of seeing if some plan cannot be devised, whereby the recommendation of the Royal Commission on Transportation in regard to rail connection with the Mainland cannot be carried into effect by a movement that shall be absolutely non-political. We do not despair yet. Experience teaches that some time is required for any new suggestion to bear fruit, and this reference to the matter is simply for the purpose of keeping it alive. It is the earnest wish of the Colonist that political partisanship shall not be brought into the consideration of this important proposal. Our evening contemporary has on several occasions reproached the members for the city in the provincial house for not taking some action. It has excused itself for so doing because Mr. Eberts laid great stress upon the subject in at least one of his speeches during the late election campaign, and the Colonist on one occasion commented strongly upon a statement by Mr. McInnes to the effect that the Liberal party were committed to the idea of developing the commercial supremacy of Vancouver. But our contemporary did not succeed in arousing a party controversy, and so far as the Colonist is concerned, the question will not be discussed from a party point of view. At the same time it is proper to point out to the Liberal Association of Victoria that the appointment of the Commission on Transportation was an act of policy for which Sir Wilfrid Laurier took considerable credit. It was a decided innovation. The character of the gentlemen appointed to the commission precluded any suggestion that the commission was created simply to give them employment. That men of the wealth and business standing of Messrs. Reford and Ashdown would devote weeks to the consideration of the transportation problem, if they did not believe that it was the desire of the Dominion government to secure reliable data as to what new projects ought to receive the attention of the Parliament of Canada, is not supposable. Seeing that such a commission, appointed for such a purpose, made an exceedingly strong recommendation about a matter in which Victoria is very deeply interested, one would suppose that the Liberal Association of this city would exert itself to demonstrate the value of that recommendation. We do not think that our Liberal friends have taken the trouble to look into their responsibility in this regard, for if they had done so, they could hardly fail to see that a duty rests upon them to take such steps as will demonstrate that the people of this constituency endorse the recommendation made by the commissioners appointed by the Liberal premier. We are placing the case before them in very plain language, because we feel that under similar circumstances the Liberal-Conservative Association would act very promptly in backing up such a report, if it had been made by a commission appointed by a Conservative premier. We do not wish to be understood as suggesting that the Liberal Party in Victoria should espouse the question mentioned as a part of a political platform, but only that, as the political organization in this city, which is in sympathy with the Premier, by whom the commission was suggested and by whom the appointments were made, it should show a disposition to meet the Conservatives half way in a movement to secure united action in an endeavor to obtain what the Commissioners recommended.

There can be no doubt as to what reception an overture from the Liberal Association would meet. Mr. McPhillips, in his speech on Monday evening, spoke the mind of the Conservatives of Victoria, when he expressed the desire that everything possible should be done to advance this great undertaking. We do not wish to introduce the names of citizens into editorials needlessly, but we suggest to Messrs. Drury, Richard Hall, Lewis Hall, McMeeking, Cox and others, who we know are highly favorable to immediate action, if they will not take into their serious consideration our suggestion of concerted effort between the two associations to launch an active campaign, in which all the public can be asked to participate.

A CORRECTION.

The following relating to the transfer of the Metlakahla Reserve appeared in the news columns of the Times last evening:

The handing over of the money by the G.T.P. follows the negotiations which took place between the officials of the Canadian Premier, Mr. McBride, at Montreal. The final arrangements between the company and the local government will be made on Premier McBride's return from London.

The deal with the Indians was carried on by the late E. G. Russell on behalf of the G. T. P. two years ago, and it was due in large measure to his efforts that a most amicable settlement was arrived at with the natives.

The handing over of the purchase money by the company is regarded as establishing the fact that the satisfactory arrangements have been entered into between Frank W. Morse, representing the G. T. P. and Premier McBride for the handing over to the railway company of the Indian lands necessary for townsite purposes at Prince Rupert.

The statement that an agreement had been reached between Mr. McBride on behalf of the Province and Mr. Morse on behalf of the Grand Trunk Pacific in this matter was so opposed to the information in possession of the Colonist, that Acting Premier Tatlow was asked as to the correctness of the above quotation. Mr. Tatlow said that he had recently received a letter from the Premier, written in response to one in which were enclosed previous statements made by the Times and other papers to the same effect as the above, and while Mr. McBride said that he had seen the Grand Trunk Pacific chief officials, while in Montreal, no decision of any kind had been reached between them, and that the whole subject stands just as it did when he left Victoria.

Without stretching the imagination to any dangerous extent, it is possible to harbor the thought that Newfoundland is destined to give Great Britain an uneasy quarter of an hour before the grievances of that colony are adjusted.

Hon. C. S. Hyman's experience seems to demonstrate that in some instances it is more difficult to resign from than to obtain office. If Mr. Hyman's wishes in this matter are not immediately met he should wire Mr. Sirton or Mr. Emmerson or Mr. Tarte asking how the trick is done.

It is amusing to see the Times quoting with approval the charge of the Montreal Gazette that the words "final and unalterable" were introduced by Sir Wilfrid Laurier into his resolution for "humbugging purposes." Our contemporary's hatred of Mr. McBride verges on the insane.

Mark Twain, the famous American humorist, is to meet King Edward, by appointment, at Windsor Castle this afternoon. Is there here evidence of a plot indicating that His Majesty is considering the expediency of reviving the custom of retaining a Court Jester?

The experiment of the introduction of Atlantic Salmon into the waters of Vancouver Island will be watched with extreme interest. If it shall prove successful the attractions of this country, from a sportsman's standpoint, will have been immeasurably increased, as the species are quite distinct from our own varieties, in the qualities which the fly-fisher most admires.

Victorians should evince a lively and sympathetic interest in the agitation set afoot by the residents of Colwood aiming at securing better connection with the city by means of a ferry. Facilities for quick communication between the outlying districts and the commercial centre mean increased business; and if we look at the matter from a purely selfish standpoint, we stand to profit by arrangements made to meet the wishes of the people of that section.

With one accord the ratepayers of Victoria would welcome any arrangement which would enable the corporation to put the Public Market building to a better use than at present. That structure has proved very much of a white elephant; and it is to be hoped that a way will be found whereby it may be leased to the Victoria Creamery Company, or some other concern which could devote it to some useful purpose.

We are glad that Mr. D. R. Ker is so hopeful as to the future of the city's water supply. When the Colonist spoke of there being no remedy in sight, its reference was to temporary conditions. In the end we will get what water the city needs, but in the meantime, we shall for a part of the year be put on rather shorter rations than is conducive to ornamental gardening and the proper laying of the dust.

The Canadian Pacific Railway is losing no time in furthering its plans to provide all possible facilities for tourists visiting Victoria and Vancouver Island, as the introduction of observation cars on the E. & N. Railway, along the line of which the scenic attractions are unexcelled anywhere in the world, indicates. With the opening of the great Empress hotel in this city, it will doubtless develop that this Company will inaugurate many other attractions for the especial pleasure of visitors, of which we have no knowledge at present.

A striking contrast in the policies observed by Great Britain and the United States is disclosed by the incident of the laying down the keels of the two "Dreadnaught" battleships by the latter country. When Britain undertook a similar venture a profound secrecy was observed. In the United States the reporters are writing columns about the new vessels, giving the minutest details. Uncle Sam will have to curb his desire to play to the galleries if he would succeed, at the crucial moment, in exhibiting the maximum amount of preparedness for the serious business of war.

It is somewhat singular that the Victoria Times, the property of a member of the Dominion government, which has asked that special attention shall be paid to Prince Fushimi, feels called upon to deprecate anything like an enthusiastic send-off. The reason it does so is doubtless because the Colonist suggested that the people of Victoria ought to rise to an appreciation of the significance of this visit. That the Colonist proposes anything is reason enough for the Times to oppose it.

A correspondent asks if we can suggest any way by which boys, who cannot read, shall be prevented from having to act as telegraph messengers, a practice, which he rightly thinks debars them from getting an education. We cannot. Boys are scarce at any price for such work, and the C. P. R. Telegraph Company has given up all attempts to hire them, delivering its messages to the District Messenger service for distribution.

Before we let a man pull our teeth he must pass an examination. Before we let him doctor our horses, he must undergo a similar ordeal. So he must before he can give us medicine, or look after our property, or run lines around our land. But when it comes to administering the affairs of a nation, we ask no embarrassing questions. A man may be so ignorant as not to know whether or not Vancouver Island is in Hudson's Bay or Nova Scotia is next door to Alaska, but, if he can get votes enough, we permit him to determine what policy shall be adopted for the development of Nova Scotia and Vancouver Island. Then we wonder why the policy of governments is not shaped in accordance with the facts of geography, and why it is difficult to get public men to appreciate things, which are as plain as a pickstaff to some of us.

No one has ever charged the Nelson Daily News with a lack of partisanship. It is devoted to the welfare of the Liberal party, and puts up a very strong fight when occasion demands. Referring to Mr. McBride's success in London our contemporary says: "We do not wish to detract in any way from the credit due the premier for his course in this connection. He has certainly scored a point in the game." The News thinks that the Liberals of the province can claim the decision of the British government to be an endorsement of the position taken by Mr. J. A. Macdonald the provincial leader. The News seems to forget that there is such a paper printed as the Victoria Times, which insists day after day that Mr. McBride achieved nothing whatever, and that he is entitled only to censure for his presumption in going to London at all. It is time the public were informed whether the Times, which is the spokesman of Mr. Templeman, leader of the Liberals of British Columbia, or such papers as the Vancouver World and the Nelson News, which have the hardihood to express satisfaction at the accomplishment of things beneficial to the province, correctly represent the views of the Liberal party on this question.

SPIRIT OF THE PRESS

Patronage.

At Ottawa from 1896 to 1900 the government lost a dog's life through the unfortunate and angry denials of the Conservative Ministers. The Conservative Ministers in Queen's Park have had a similar experience since their accession to office. After the election of 1900 the premier at Ottawa was relieved. It will be asked for the men in Queen's Park after the next election if they continue in office. But there is no doubt that the Laurier government lost many votes in 1900 by the angry machinations of disappointed place hunters, and probably the provincial ministers will lose votes for the same reason in the next provincial contest. They will lose also, as did the Ottawa politicians, through the resentment evoked among the friends of officials who have been removed from office by other means. The whole system is evil, and that continually, and the political leaders in self-defense, in the interests of the public service, and in the interests of the country, should bring it to an end by a radical measure of civil service reform under which all appointments and promotions would be referred to a civil service commission, and according to the results of qualifying and competitive examinations. Toronto Mail.

Heard From at Last.

The dentists have spoken and the Province is their prophet. We are informed at last why so many candidates were plucked at the recent examination. Tell it not in Gath, publish it not in the streets of Askelon. The candidates of course were not to be expected that young man exposed to the contaminating influence of the offices of dentists who advertise would be immune to the influence of the Province the examination will be memorable as the worst case of wholesale cribbing in the history of the board. Fortunately for the fair fame of candidates for licenses in dentistry beside the four who got through there were several who at all costs were to be kept out. These, however, broke another record all around—they showed an incompetency exceeding that of any candidates in the history of the board.

The examiners, however, are merciful. Just as they declined to make known any particular manifestations of inefficiency, so also they refused to let the candidate who dropped a note book on the floor and who those were who brought their practical work with them in their pockets, either admit or deny the incident. The incident was without any feelings whatever, are actuated by the principle that if a man cheats it does not matter who knows it. They have been seen to tear papers up publicly in the examination room and order the offenders away. If the evil doing was found out only after the answer had been sent in they shouted their disapproval almost from the rooftops and everybody interested knew that scandalous papers were cancelled for cribbing. And so-and-so knew it, too. The gentleman, however, are built on another plan. They prefer that if the burden of a charge of cheating is to rest on any of the candidates it shall rest on all, innocent and guilty alike. The innocent will not enjoy it, but like that other simple device, the refusal to tell a candidate in what branches he failed, it saves a world of trouble. And only for the good of the victor to the best of the charmed ring—Vancouver World.

Boys Arrested

Two boys occupied a cell in the police station last night while an officer of the law was busy investigating their suspicious conduct during the evening. The youths were found prowling around inside of Todd's warehouse on Wharf street, to which an entrance had been effected. A third and older person, who was with the boys escaped arrest, and is being searched for. No charge has yet been laid against the young prisoners.

FISHERMEN OBJECT

Reduced Price of Spring Salmon is Considered Too Small

New Westminster, June 21.—A meeting of the Fishermen's union will be held on Saturday afternoon for the purpose of discussing the action of the local fish buyers, who on Wednesday reduced the price of spring salmon by one cent a pound. As might be expected the fishermen object very strenuously to this reduction in price, and the meeting on Saturday is likely to result in some drastic move on their part.

Yesterday several of the local fishermen declared that they would on no account go out fishing for less than five cents per pound, as the salmon were now running in such small numbers that the fishermen had great difficulty in catching enough to make it worth their while to cast out their nets. Judging by the remark made by the men, a large vote will be cast at the meeting tomorrow.

Very few salmon were caught yesterday, a large number of the boats returning without hauling in a single fish. Another matter which will be discussed at the union meeting will be the resolution recently introduced at a board of trade meeting with reference to the tearing up of nets by booms of logs going up the river. The fishermen consider that they do all in their power to get out of the way of booms, and blame any accidents that happen on the river to the tugs.

The time used is Pacific Standard for the 120th meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height refer to distinguish high water from low water. The height is measured from the level of the lower low water at spring tides. This level corresponds with the datum to which the soundings on the Admiralty chart of Victoria harbor are referred as closely as can now be ascertained.

PROVINCIAL CONVENTION OF THE W. C. T. UNION

Interesting Programme Prepared for the Gathering to be Held Next Week in Vancouver.

Vancouver, June 21.—An interesting programme has been prepared for the provincial convention of the W. C. T. U., which is to be held in this city on June 25, 26 and 27, in the Wesley Methodist church schoolroom, beginning at 9.30 o'clock on the morning of the 25th. One public meeting will be devoted to the discussion of work among children, a large number of juveniles taking part in the proceedings. Greetings will be given by representatives of the temperance lodges in the city; by Professor Odium, on behalf of the Dominion Alliance; by Rev. B. J. Wilson, for the Ministerial association, and by Miss Edge, for the Local Council of Women, while Mrs. Macken, President of the Central Union, will give the address of welcome to the visiting delegates.

Mrs. Spofford, provincial organizer, will give an interesting address on her tour of the interior, and one night's programme will consist of a medal contest by the Vancouver and New Westminster unions. Luncheon will be served in the rooms adjoining where the sessions will be held, and a trip around the city will be enjoyed by the delegates at the most convenient time that offers.

Commissioner Delayed
Commissioner Combs of the Salvation Army who was expected to arrive in the city yesterday, was delayed in Vancouver. His arrival is looked for today.

Raising Price of Bread.
Edmonton, June 21.—On Monday the price of bread in this city goes up. A 1½ pound loaf will be sold at the rate of 16 leaves for $1 retail, and 18 leaves for $1 wholesale. The rate was decided upon at a large meeting of the local bakers held last Friday night, and is said to be due to the increased price of flour.

Jail-Breaking Conspiracy.
Portage in Prairie, Man., June 21.—In connection with the recent breaking from jail of the prisoners Phillips and Leary, some details have come to light which lead the authorities to suppose that a more or less general escape was planned. Six other inmates were implicated and these appeared before the magistrate yesterday charged with assisting the prisoners to escape. The case was conducted behind closed doors, but it is learned that one headed guilty and the others denied the charge. As the investigation is not yet complete, on the application of the crown prosecutor a remand was granted after the evidence had been taken.

MEN ARRESTED HERE HAVE A BAD RECORD

Are Wanted in Vancouver and New Westminster for Several Thefts

Fred Smith and Harry Stanley, the two men arrested by Sergeant Detective Palmer on Thursday afternoon on the strength of information from Vancouver, will be taken to the Terminal city today by Detective A. G. Waddell, who arrived from there last evening.

The prisoners are suspected of having committed numerous thefts in Vancouver within the past two months and the police of that city hope to prove them guilty of enough crime to warrant long terms in the penitentiary. They are what the detectives call "prowlers," their mode of operation being to enter houses and hotel rooms when the occupants are absent and help themselves to such valuable articles as are not too heavy to carry away. On holidays or other days when people are out in large numbers enjoying themselves, the "prowlers" do their heaviest work, and it is believed that their visit to Victoria this week was for the purpose of operating their game during the racing days.

The prisoners are also wanted in New Westminster where they are known to have been on a day recently when the Norris and Rowe circus was in that city, and coincident with their visit a number of articles of jewelry were stolen from different homes during the afternoon.

Detective Waddell says one of the men has a bad record on the other side of the international boundary line where he has served time for offences similar to those with which he is now charged.

White, of A. E. Platts, mayor of the city of Nanaimo, was in the city yesterday. He was registered at the Driard.

E. J. Essary, ex-mayor of London, Ont., who was a delegate to the supreme Orange Lodge, is visiting Victoria. He is registered at the Dominion hotel.

David B. Wilson, provincial inspector of public schools, returned yesterday from a trip over the E. & N. line. Mrs. J. W. Kelly, of Duncan, came to the city yesterday to meet her husband who is to arrive from the south today. She is registered at the Dominion hotel.

He is particularly delighted with Victoria, the most beautiful city he has seen since leaving home. Mr. and Mrs. Watson leave today for California, and will visit Seattle, Tacoma and Portland en route.

ORANGE GRAND LODGE.
Gift to Vancouver Lodge—Next Meeting in Midland, Ont.

Vancouver, June 21.—In appreciation of the good work done by Vancouver's local Orange lodges, the Grand Lodge yesterday morning, at its second day's session, voted a gift of $500 to be applied on the Orange hall, now in course of construction in this city. The gift came as a surprise to the local Orange-men.

After the presentation of the gift, committee reports dealing with alterations of laws and constitution, and showing the condition of finances and credentials were listened to. The afternoon session was dispensed with, owing to the excursion to Lake Buntzen, which was commenced at 2.30 o'clock and ended at 6 o'clock.

At the session last evening rivalry between the three cities of Calgary, Winnipeg and Midland was shown in the selection of the next convention city. At the opening ballot Calgary dropped out of the race, the Eastern delegates contending that the West should not be chosen as the meeting place twice in succession. The next ballot showed Winnipeg the victor. Word was given out that the "Peg" had won, and the delegates began shaking their heads, some of them having voted for that city through a misunderstanding. The feeling became so strong against the action taken, considering the fact that but three years have elapsed since Winnipeg entertained the Grand Lodge, that a reconsideration was given, a third vote was taken, with the result that Midland, Ont., was chosen. Almost unanimous approval of this city is the sentiment voiced by the members.

today in connection with the selection of a site for the proposed experimental farm for Vancouver Island. Dr. Saunders has only visited the country between here and Victoria. The site will likely be at some point between Victoria and Nanaimo. People at this end of the E. & N. railway believe the farm should be located near here, and this opportunity is taken to present to Dr. Saunders some reasons for this belief.

A party of students are here from Wisconsin University, searching for and making scientific examinations of the farming and mineral resources of the island.

Owing to the existence of a case or two of measles in the city one room in the city school has been closed for a few days.

PARKS BOARD PAYS A VISIT TO BEACON HILL

Looked Over Ground With View To Adopting Plan For Improvement

The Parks' Board after their preliminary meeting the evening before got into harness yesterday morning.
At ten o'clock all the members assembled at the end of the Beacon Hill car line and commenced a pilgrimage around the park.

From the car front to the lakefront the street line to the bear pit, the grounds were covered. The animals were visited and various suggestions as to their care and improvements in their quarters offered. At the present time, however, little beyond bare maintenance can be done.
The superintendent was instructed to have the hay harvested and the long grass and weeds trimmed and put into shape.

The board will shortly visit the other parks and the balance of the year will be devoted as far as the parks are concerned to evolving a thorough system of park development.
In the opinion of the mayor, the six months which are left will not be too long for the work undertaken. Once the plan is complete the board will ask for a sufficient appropriation to carry out their policy.

The attention of the board will in the meanwhile be largely directed to those streets on which work is contemplated during the present year.
The next meeting of the board will be held as soon as the boardward committee is ready to report.

BUILDING OPERATIONS ARE NOW BEING RUSHED

Most of Work in Progress is Outside the Fire
Limits

Building operations are being rushed at the present time throughout the city, the greatest volume of business being done outside the fire limits. The system of registration by which only those who are doing work within the limits which comprise the business district of Victoria, are compelled to lodge copies of their plans with the city assessor and obtain permits, does Victoria somewhat of an injustice in the figures which are sent to the outside world.

As a gentleman remarked to a Colonist reporter: "People who pay attention to the building permit figures are somewhat misled as to the amount which is going on in this city as compared with other centres in Canada."

"Little towns on the prairie show building figures which total up to hundreds of thousands of dollars whereas those of Victoria for the same period do not amount to three-quarters of a million. The difference arises because in all cities of the east and middle west and in Vancouver, a permit has to be obtained for nearly every place a building done within the city limits. These mount up."

The building permits merely for the additions and new structures in the congested business section of the city, where, with the exception of one or two buildings, there has been little activity, amounted in 1906 to $623,000.
This did not take into account the hundreds of smaller buildings which went up outside the comparatively contracted area comprised by the fire limits. The bounds of the latter are as follows:—

From the water's edge along Herald
St. to Douglas street; along Douglas street to Fisguard street, along the centre of Fisguard street to Blanche-ard street; along Blanchard st. to Bay street; along Bay street to Douglas; from Douglas to Humboldt street, along Humboldt to Macleure street, along Macleure to Belleville street, from Belleville to the Causeway and thence along the shore line to the point of commencement.

The average cost of the ordinary two storey residence is in the neighborhood of $3,000. The local contractors have been busy all spring and the bulk of this description, while the architects of the city are pressed for time to prepare the plans demanded.
Were these to be included in the list of building permits, Victoria would occupy a different position with relation to the other cities of the Dominion.
It is the list that investors watch carefully in judging the activity of real estate and the chances for investment.

Elects for Speedy Trial

Frank Clayton, who was recently committed for trial on a charge of horse stealing appeared before Judge Lampman in the county court yesterday and elected for a speedy trial. He will be accommodated on Wednesday next.

Will Reside Here

John Dilworth, a ranch owner in the Kelowna district, who recently purchased some valuable farm property at Gordon Head, and a home in Victoria returned to the city last evening, accompanied by his son, prepared to take up his permanent residence here. Mr. Dilworth retains considerable interest in Kelowna, and will visit that district occasionally.

Summer Camp Meeting

At the district meeting of the Methodist church, held in the Metropolitan church a few weeks ago a committee was appointed for the purpose of arranging for a summer school and camp meeting in the town of Sidney,
on the purpose of the summer school formulated for holding this gathering from August 29 to 31. An interesting programme in which pleasure and instruction will be combined, is being prepared. The park, with its large pavilion, is admirably adapted for the purpose, and the committee will spare no pains to make all visitors as comfortable as possible to those who are desirous of spending a week or so, not too far away from home,
this will afford a splendid opportunity.
The programme will be announced as soon as it is completed.

INDIANS ARE PAID FOR THEIR LANDS

Settlement Made With the Met-lakahla Tribe Near Prince Rupert

The first payment by the G. T. P. to the Indians of the Metlakahla for their interests in the lands near Prince Rupert has been made by the company. It amounted to $50,000.

The payment was made June 17, by Indian Agent Morrow who handed a cheque for the sum to Chief Councillor Joseph Leighton. The latter distributed the money amongst all members of the tribe over 21 years of age.

A similar amount is held in trust for the juvenile Indians. It was done by means of cheques payable at the Bank of Commerce. Prince Rupert, the beneficiaries numbered 290. One family received as much as $6,000.
The event was celebrated by the Indians by a parade and fireworks and in the evening a banquet was held which was attended by Bishop Duvernet, Indian Agent Morrow and J.
Bacon, harbor engineer of the G. T. P. at that point. The festivities were continued on Tuesday winding up with a dance in the evening.

The deal with the Indians thus successfully consummated, was engineered by the late E. G. Russell on behalf of the G. T. P. two years ago.

FINED FOR SPEEDING AUTO ON STREET

Driver Attains Speed of Forty Miles an Hour and Pays
Fifteen Dollars

Four hundred yards in 20 seconds, a rate of a mile in one minute and 28 seconds, or forty and ten-elevenths miles an hour, is the registered speed at which H. Palmer, on the evening of Wednesday last, drove his motor car along Fort street.

He was stopped by a policeman,
and he declared in court yesterday morning that he held his watch faithfully to the fraction of a second and afterwards accurately measured the distance covered in the time mentioned.

He was prepared to make his statement under oath, but this was not required of him. The speeder who was before the magistrate on a charge of violating the Motor Vehicles Speed Regulation act, which allows for only ten miles an hour, pleaded guilty.

The manager of the garage, to which the automobile belongs, was present in court, and said that, while his driver was willing to admit that he had driven faster than was permissible, he could not have driven his car at the rate recorded by the constable as it had a limit of thirty miles an hour.
He pleaded that Palmer was a very careful driver and was always particular to avoid danger.

Chief Langley said he was riding his bicycle along Fort street on the evening in question. He was going at a rate of about six miles an hour when Palmer, in his automobile, flew past him. He had no means of registering the speed of the automobile, but he knew that it went more than three blocks in the time that it took him to go one, and after he had been passed he had increased his own speed to a rate of about eight miles an hour. The chief was not satisfied with the garage manager's assurance that Palmer was a careful driver. He said he had not seen him making curves on the street
when there was no necessity for it.

Asked if he had anything to say for himself the accused said he knew he had done wrong, but he wanted to test his car.

Magistrate Hall remarked on the danger of such speed as Palmer had made, and said he was not only endangering the lives of pedestrians but also his own, and if it was necessary, in testing a car, to drive it faster than 10 miles an hour he trusted that in future he would select some less dangerous place than Fort street. He fined Palmer $15.

HAS DIFFERENT TALE TO TELL OF TROUBLE

Prisoner in Greek Assault Case Says He Was the Victim

With his head bandaged, and a sickly sort of smile coming and going over his pale face, V. Steemeteere, the Greek fruit and candy merchant, who on Thursday night was felled to the floor of the Regent Saloon by a blow with a cuspidor, was the most conspicuous figure in the prisoner's vestibule yesterday morning.

B. Marmas, also a Greek, the man who inflicted the punishment, sat outside the dock, and looked the part of a hero eager for an opportunity to appear in the limelight.

There was an unusually large gathering in the auditorium of the court yesterday, but deferred satisfaction was its only reward. Neither the accused nor his accuser were represented by counsel and the limitations of their knowledge of English made it impossible for the chief of police to shape
a case for presentation to the court.
Both parties were advised to secure counsel and to agree on an interpreter in order that the trial might be proceeded with this morning.

The charge against the prisoner is "threatening to do grievous bodily harm," and two ugly looking knives with which Marmas alleges that the threat was made, were on exhibition in the court room.

It is understood that the prisoner has a story of the trouble to tell which differs materially from that furnished the police by the complainant, and published in the Colonist yesterday morning. The man with several vowels in his surname lays claim to being a peaceable citizen who is harassed continually by certain of his fellows who have a grudge against him. He says that when he was drinking in the Regent barroom he was assaulted by Marmas without provocation, that he went to his store and returned, armed with a knife, in order that he might protect himself against further assault. He had only one knife. He merely showed this to Mar-mas as a warning not to attack him again, making no attempt to use it.

The display had a quieting effect on Marmas till Steemeteere turned to leave the place, and then the cuspidor was thrown and the damage done.
The police will endeavor to have a couple of independent witnesses present when the case is called this morning.

is with an uncle. When seen tonight by a reporter Mrs. Simpkins refused

CITY IS DECORATED FOR ROYAL VISITOR

Streets Are Taking On Holiday
Garb in Honor of Prince Fushimi

The city is already beginning to assume its holiday garb in readiness for the arrival of Prince Fushimi tomorrow afternoon. Strings of banners suspended along the north side of Belleville Street from the C. P. R. wharf lend that thoroughfare a festive appearance, while all along the route which the prince will take in driving to Government House, along Government Street and up Yates, flags of all nations, in which the Japanese national banner figures conspicuously have been hung across the streets from telegraph poles. A detachment of the fire brigade was busy all yesterday upon the work.

At the corner of Yates and Douglas Streets an arch has been erected by the Japanese colony. It is composed of evergreens and various colored flowers. At night time it will be illuminated by electricity.
The prince and suite will arrive aboard the Princess Victoria which makes a special trip from Vancouver, about 5.30 o'clock. He will be received by Lieutenant Governor Dunsmuir and Mayor Morley. A guard of honor composed of the Fifth Regiment will be drawn up at the C. P. R.
wharf. The entire Japanese colony of the city with a delegation from Sea-

and will present His Imperial Highness with a banquet.

Government House where they will be entertained during their stay here.

We Make a Specialty of Children's Shoes.

Every other shoe factory in the country makes a side line of them—a means of using up scrap leather.

We use the best leather we can buy for our Instructor Shoes for children. And we cut them from the centre of the hide where the grain is tough and even. That is why they outlast two pair of any other make.

Instructor Shoes are modelled on anatomical lines—so the child's foot can grow, each toe lying out flat and uncramped.

Instructor Shoes are put on the last by hand and left twenty-four hours, so all the stretch is taken out of the leather and they will always retain their perfect shape.

There is no shoe factory in the world which uses as much care and skill in the making of their best product, as we do in the production of Instructor Shoes for children. This is correct, too, for those tender growing feet require the greatest care and protection or they'll become distorted and painful.

We're proud of Instructor Shoes, and have stamped the name on the soles of them, so you'll know the genuine. Ask your shoe man for them, if he cannot supply you, write to us and we'll tell you who can.

Four Favorites Win at Fair Grounds on Second Day of Meet

Thrilling Finish in the Seven Furlong Event, the Five Starters Being Heads Apart at the Wire—Slow Time in the Harness Race—Splendid Programme Arranged for Today When Six Races Will Take Place

The second day of the Victoria Club's meet at the fair grounds brought out a much diminished attendance from opening day but those who attended witnessed some excellent racing. Four running events and one harness race constituted the programme. There was not a great deal to the driving race, Dr. H. away back, Dr. H. broke before going half but steadied down quickly. At the finish Directzone was an easy winner by half a length from Max Dell, with Dr. H. eight lengths back. Directzone took a big lead in the second heat while Max Dell and Dr. H. paced together for three quarters when the former pulled away and won handsly. In the final heat Directzone again made it easy. Max Dell was whipped out in the stretch but could not get up. Dr. H. was away back.

Miss Provo and Lord of the Forest were the favorites in the five furlong race. Jockey Clark got away in front with Miss Provo and made every post a winning one, getting home two lengths to the good. Miss Provo ran second all the way, but though Buxton went to the whip she could not catch the winner. Clark only had to chase his mount up when Miss Provo challenged on the stretch turn and sat still the rest of the way. Magnifico, the long shot of the race, dropped into third place.

Nearly every starter in the furlong dash received support in the books and Golden Light was the bookmaker's favorite, but the public went after Tramway and Miller's Daughter strong. Tramway got off in front but the others were close up and they were bunched all the way. It was a beautiful race and the finish was a thriller. Tramway succeeded in holding its lead to the wire, but he and the Sully necked long. Wayne was beaten half a length second. Miller's Daughter and Hobson's Choice were but short necks behind.

In the mile Phyz was a strong favorite, but Katie Bell was well backed at 3 to 2, while Bonar was also given attention. Jockey Williams & Katie Bell out in front at the start and opened up a gap of a couple of lengths which he held to the wire. Bonar got into a pocket after going half a mile and Jockey Clark had to go round on the outside in the back stretch. Phyz was second by a length from Bonar. Elfin King was a 1 to 2 shot in the last race and his race warranted the short prices. He took the lead at the start with St. Celia and Fort Wayne in close attendance. On the stretch turn Elfin King pulled away and won as he pleased by two lengths from the Sully neck. Wayne was beaten half a length second.

The following is a summary of the results: First race—2:35 trot or 2:40 pace, purse $250; mile heats, three in five—Directzone, 1 to 2; Max Dell, 3 to 4; Dr. H., 5 to 1; Mitchell (Mitchell), 10 to 1. Time—2:33, 2:42, 2:27-33. Second race—Five furlongs, purse $150. F. Gabriel's ch. g. Lord of the Forest, 1 to 10; Clark, 3 to 4; Magnifico, 5 to 1; Dr. H., 10 to 1; Mitchell (Mitchell), 10 to 1. Time—2:33, 2:42, 2:27-33. Third race—Seven furlongs, purse $150. E. Cudde's b. g. Tramway, 121 (Smith), 3 to 2; Pelter's ch. g. Golden Light, 121 (Clark), 3 to 2.

Fourth race—One mile, purse $175. Cottrell & Thornton's b. m. Katie Bell, 121 (Williams), 3 to 2; John Kane's br. m. Phyz, 121 (Carson), 1 to 1; T. H. Stevens' Bonar, 123 (Clark), 3 to 2; T. H. Stevens' ch. m. St. Celia, 117 (Carson), 8 to 1. Time—1:46. Fifth race—Half mile, purse $100. J. Pelter's b. g. Elfin King, 121 (Clark), 1 to 3; Carrington's ch. m. St. Celia, 117 (Carson), 8 to 1; W. E. Barnett's Fort Wayne, 121 (Patterson), 2 to 1. Time—50.45. Maria and Extra Nell also ran.

Six races are on the programme for this afternoon at the fair grounds, five running events and one harness race. The free-for-all has been declared off, not filling, and two other gallopers have been put on instead. There is a big entry list for each event and some excellent sport is assured. A feature of the day will be the appearance on the track of Mr. Hollingshead of Lake, who is 75 years of age. He will drive B. C. King last year at the local races and scored a victory, and he hopes to repeat today. The following is the entry list: First race—2:35 trot or 2:40 pace, three heats in five—Minnie Jerome, Starlight, B. C. King, Sister Stoll, Cashmount, Kittle Hart, Queen Victoria. Second race—The "Monmouth" Purse, half mile, $100—Maria, 106; Extra Nell, 106; J. Pelter's ch. m. St. Celia, 121; Miller's Daughter, 119. Third race—The "Empress" Purse, one mile, $200—Katie Bell, 121; Tramway, 123; Pelter's ch. m. St. Celia, 117. Fourth race—The "Coke" Handicap, five-eighths mile, $150—Youth, 110; Miss Provo, 101; Lord of the Forest, 126; Hobson's Choice, 100. Fifth race—The "Mile" Purse, seven furlongs, $150—Bonar, 121; Pierce T. 121; Sandstone, 121; Invictus, 121; Golden Light, 121; Magnifico, 121. Sixth race—The Consolation Purse, six furlongs, $100—For horses that have not won first money at the meeting. Post entries, the starters in this race will be bulletined on the blackboard and announced from the judges' stand.

Nanaimo Team For Sunday. Nanaimo baseball team will place a strong lineup in the field at that place on Sunday afternoon against the new Victoria aggregation. The team will be composed of Smith, catcher; Harrison, pitcher; Little, first base; Graham, second base; Gordon, third base; Ashman, shortstop; Ramsey, left field; Wilkinson, center field; Alken, right field.

Austrian to Meet Johnson. Vancouver, June 21.—Karl Delvik, the champion wrestler of Austria, who is in the city en route to Nanaimo to meet Ralph Johnson, will probably go after Heinrich of Seattle, next month. At least Heinrich, who styles himself a champion, but who failed to make much of a show, but in Vancouver last week has accepted the challenge issued by the Austrian. Heinrich asks for no handicap and he will meet Delvik square away for anything from a box of candy to a purse of gold.

At Spokane on April 16, 1906, Delvik undertook to throw Heinrich twice in an hour and failed to throw him even once, losing thereby a bet of $24. Now, however, Heinrich, with a greater confidence in himself, is willing to meet the Austrian square.

The bout, if arranged, will take place in Seattle next month.

Prebendary as Wicketkeeper. An interesting feature in connection with Somerset this season is the reappearance in first-class county engagements of Prebendary Archibald Blair, who, although fifty years old, has come forward to fill the vacancy wicketkeeper caused by the retirement of Mr. Harry Martyn.

WHITE CAP TO COMPETE AT BIG SEATTLE REGATTA. Only One Victoria Yacht Will Take Part in Races to be Held Early Next Month.

Victoria will have only one representative in the big yachting regatta at Seattle next month when the Alexandra cup races will be sailed. It will be the White Cap, owned by L. Laurie, vice-commander of the local yacht club. The yawl Gwelon, owned by Commodore Gibb will not race at Seattle and there are no other local yachts which could enter with any chance of success. The White Cap is a sloop-rigged yacht, 27 feet, 6 inches over all, with an eight-foot beam, and is very fast.

North Wellington Liberals. Toronto, June 21.—The Liberals of North Wellington met in convention today at Arthur to select a candidate to contest the vacancy in the Dominion parliament for that riding caused by the death of the late Thos. Martin. Wm. Martin, who is a brother of the late member, received the unanimous nomination.

Seven Jockeys Re-instated. San Francisco, June 21.—The stewards of the new California Jockey club announced the rescinding of rulings against seven jockeys who had been suspended for bad-looking rides on various horses. By this action Jockeys E. Lynch, Gross, C. Williams and Eugene Hilderbrand are restored to good standing with full privileges. Jockey Fischer is to be permitted to ride for his employer, J. B. Dunn; Jockey Hunter will be allowed to ride the horses of C. C. McCaffrey and Jockey Butwell, those of I. H. Moller & Co. ruling was handed out at the same time which reinstates all horses whose entry had been ordered refused during the meeting, with the exception of Marshall Neil.

SPIRIT WINS FIRST RACE. Trials to Select Challenger for Alexandra Cup Being Held. Seattle, June 21.—The first of the trial heats for the selection of the yacht which is to bear the flag of the United States in the international race against the Alexandra, of Vancouver, on July 4, for the new international trophy, the Alexandra cup was held yesterday on a twelve-mile course, the Spirit, built and sailed by Ted Geary, crossing the finish line first.

The race was an exceedingly pretty one, the wind being fair and four boats starting. The Anoma, Winona, Imp and Spirit got away well together at the starting gun, fired from the Olympic, running down the course with the wind abeam, the Winona took the lead, with the Spirit close behind, and at the three-mile buoy the positions were the same, but in negotiating the turn the Winona fell away, but soon afterwards regained the leading position. The Imp and Anoma were already trailing, the former apparently having trouble with the head sails. The Anoma got her balloons set and gained a bit, but in the second leg she dropped out of the contest owing to a broken mast.

The Spirit got the lead on the second leg and held it throughout, the remainder of the race. The Winona was rather poorly sailed, and it appeared that if her crew had displayed the seamanship of those on the Spirit the race would have been very close. As it was, the Spirit crossed the finish line three and a half minutes in the lead of the Winona, with the Imp coming in four minutes later than the Winona.

Geary handled the Spirit in a fairly capable manner, and the officers on board the judges' boat, Olympic, expressing the opinion that both the Winona and Spirit could have stood more sail area than was spread.

Another trial will be held at a date to be set next week, but the opinion among the judges is that the Spirit will be selected to contest the Alexandra on July 4. The official time for the twelve miles was not announced.

MANY ENTRIES FOR SEATTLE. Regatta at Lake Washington Next Month Attracts Oarsmen. Seattle, June 21.—Full crews will represent all five clubs in the annual regatta of the N. P. A. O. on Lake Washington next month.

Vancouver, Victoria, Nelson, Portland and Seattle will have entries in the senior and junior fours, senior and junior doubles and senior and junior singles.

The Seattle crew will be fairly strong, four crack eastern college oarsmen having arrived who will represent the Seattle Rowing and Canoe Club.

Gloss, of Portland, and Sawyers, of Vancouver, will be strong rivals in the senior singles, while Del DesBrisay, one of the best known oarsmen on the continent, is expected to represent the Nelson club.

A programme of skiff and canoe races, singles and doubles for ladies and gentlemen and mixed is being arranged and entries for these shall be made to Al S. Goldsmith, 536 Burke building, before next Thursday. The races will take place on July 3 and 4.

DOMINION DAY SHOOT TO BE HELD AT LADYSMITH. Teams From Cumberland, Nanaimo, Gabriola Island, and This City Expected. Ladysmith, June 21.—The Tyee Gun Club, will hold a trap shooting tournament on the 1st day of July, 1907, on the club grounds, commencing at 10 a. m. Besides the Tyee club teams from Cumberland, Gabriola Island, Nanaimo and Victoria are expected to be present.

HEART TROUBLE CURED. In the rush, hurry and worry of modern times, we overwork the heart. Is it any wonder then that there comes a breakdown of this wonderful little engine, when such a continued strain is placed upon it day after day. There are many forms of heart trouble and the slightest derangement of this important organ is extremely dangerous. To strengthen the weak heart it is necessary to use a remedy that will act upon the heart tissue, restore and revitalize it and at the same time tone up and invigorate the nervous system, we have such a combination in

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS. Mrs. Ella Dingman, Morganston, Ont., writes of her experience with them: "It is with the greatest of pleasure that I recommend Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I was troubled for a long time with my heart; I had weak and dizzy spells, could not rest at night, and I would have to sit up in bed the greater part of some nights, and it was absolutely impossible for me to lie on my left side. At last I got a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and they effected a complete cure. I have not been troubled with my heart since."

Price 50 cents per box or 3 boxes for $1.25 all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

MOUNTAIN TRAINING SUITS TOMMY BURNS. Canadian Fighter Will Be Prepared For Any Style That Squires May Fight. Harbin Springs, June 21.—Whether or not Tommy Burns is destined to fill Jim Jeffries' shoes as champion of the world remains to be seen. In the meantime Tommy is going over the ground that Jeffries covered very thoroughly.

He occupies the cottage that Jeffries occupied in this favored neck of the woods. He sleeps in the same bed that Jeffries slept in. He eats at the table under which Jeffries was used to dispose his levitation lower limbs at bedtime and Jim sits in the chair that supported big Jim at the time of his fight.

Whether or not he accounts for as much fodder as the newest member of the Los Angeles Retail Liquor Dealers' Association is a mooted point, there being differences of opinion here. Some think Tommy is capable a trencherman as big Jim and are asking to get away with the other day he is eager to be considered the equal of Jeffries in every respect.

Here is what Tommy says he ate: "One pound of butter, a large potato, two apples, a baked potato, with vegetables to match, a plate of bread, two dishes of custard, two bowls of strawberries and cream and three cups of coffee."

Surely that's a brave showing for a fighter who was scarcely known three years ago. This thing of having Burns follow in the footsteps of Jeffries as closely as possible is said to be a notion of Jim Hays, proprietor of the Springs. Hays was always proud of Jeffries' success at a training spell and believes that if Tommy follows the same regimen everything will be done with him preparation good results are more than likely to follow.

Follows in Jeffries' Shoes. Burns uses the gymnasium and hand ball court that were built for Jeffries and also follows the trails that Jeffries followed when mountain climbing. About the only thing he doesn't use is the 400-pound sandbag that Jeffries had suspended from the rafters of his exercising room. It was a heart-breaking unwieldy piece of equipment and Jeffries might never have broken it if it had not been for some one had not told him disturbing stories of the immense strength enjoyed by Jack Munroe, the man he was getting ready to fight.

Munroe, as all the world knew, was a power and it was whispered to Jeffries that when in his last years below ground used to bend crowsbars across his knee and shoulder supporting timber out of place. The effect was to cause Jeffries to fit himself as it for a chain-snapping, glove-lifting tourney with Sandow, for famous strong man, instead of a glove contest with a poor neighbor.

To return to Burns. He likes his quarters and takes kindly to his work. He says he was never better suited in regard to a training camp in his life, and he can understand why big Jeffries took to the mountains to prepare himself for his various ring battles.

Burns made a flying trip to Los Angeles last week to see his protegee, Jimmy Burns, box the Montana Kid. Tommy worked at every available opportunity, but for all that his weight jumped five pounds. He weighed 175 pounds before he set out for Los Angeles and 180 when he returned.

He got back here in the midst of clear, warm weather and it took him just twelve hours Monday to drop to the 175 mark again. A dozen miles over the mountains in the crystal morning air brought him back soaking with perspiration. That accounted for three pounds. A few games of handball in the afternoon with Jack Hunt and Don McKenzie, followed by an hour and a half of raised exercises, including a fast three rounds with McKenzie sent him to the scales at 175.

"I'll weigh more than that going into the ring," said Burns, "I am aiming to be faster and at the same time stronger than ever before, for I feel somewhat that all the fights I've had will be baby play compared with my coming affair with this determined Australian. Figuring that it will be a desperate fight, I want to have some reserve strength and weight to fall back upon. I generally lose five or six pounds during a contest, which I have to regain, and this time I may go longer than that I must be prepared in every way to stand a siege. Mind, I don't say it will go over twenty rounds. The articles call for forty-five rounds, and there are two parties to the contest. The length of it will depend upon the way the fight goes and I can't tell anything about the other man's methods I have to keep in view the possibility of the fight being a long one."

"In other words," put in Professor Lewis, Burns' trainer, "Tommy is training principally for endurance this time. When he got ready for big Marvin Hart he confined himself mainly to building up his strength. When he prepared for O'Brien he trained for speed. This time he is going against a conundrum. While lots of people think they have Squires sized up no one knows just how he fights. Burns, therefore has to be ready for anything that comes up and when he says he is training for endurance that covers the whole question. Training for endurance means the most thorough of all preparations and that's what we are giving Tommy this time."

BRENAHAN BADLY HURT. New York Giant Backstop Hit in Head by Pitched Ball. Cincinnati, June 20.—Roger Brenahan, backstop of the New York Giants, probably has played his last game of ball. In the third inning of the game against the Reds he was hit by a pitched ball and knocked down. That he is believed to be fatally hurt is evidenced by the fact that the last sacrament of the Roman Catholic church, of which he is a member, has been administered.

The ball struck him back of the left ear, and while the physicians have been unable to find a fracture of the skull, they fear that a blood clot will form and terminate fatally. Brenahan is at the Seton hospital.

The wildness of Pitcher Coakley of the Reds is blamed to some extent for the accident. The ball was a high in-shoot and Brenahan made no effort to dodge it. All the players on both teams were soon around the prostrate player. After they had spent several minutes in efforts to revive Brenahan without effect, he was carried to the clubhouse by several of the Giants and a doctor summoned from the grandstand.

Three more physicians were found in the grandstand in less than five minutes and Brenahan became conscious after the four doctors had worked over him for about ten minutes. His first request was for a priest and Rev. John Hickey, pastor of a church near the ball park, responded to the call. He administered extreme unction. Brenahan improved rapidly for about fifteen minutes, but the lump back of his ear grew to immense proportions. He expected to go down town without assistance, but in about half an hour he became unconscious again. An ambulance was called and Brenahan was taken to the Seton hospital.

WELL MATCHED PHYSICALLY. Measuring Tape Run Over Bill Squires and Tommy Burns. The measuring tape has been run over Squires and Burns and the men are found to be well matched physically. The greatest discrepancy is in height, Squires having an advantage of three and one half inches. Burns is three years younger than Squires but the latter is still within the limit when an athlete should have reached his prime. From the waist down they are almost identical in size and the same holds good of their arms. The normal chest measurement is the same but Squires has an expansion of four inches to one and three quarters for his opponent. The table shows their measurements in detail:

KEROSENE FOR KIDLING. Disaster Results From Its Use by a Toronto Woman. Toronto, June 21.—Three people were seriously burned this morning, and two of them may die. Mrs. Mills, who lives at Sutton Place, was pouring coal oil into the stove because the fire was not burning quickly enough. In a minute there was an explosion and her clothing caught fire. Her screams attracted her seventeen-month-old baby, who ran to her, and its clothes were set on fire. Her husband, who was lying sick in bed with rheumatism, jumped up and grabbed the baby, setting his own clothes on fire and getting badly burned. The mother and child may die, but the husband's burns are not so serious. This is the second experience that Mrs. Mills has had with coal oil and a lighted stove. Neighbors say that the explosion shook the house.

INTENSIFIED FRUIT JUICES. AN IMPROVEMENT ON NATURE. A Discovery that is Revolutionizing Medicine. Remarkable Success Attends the Finding of a New Medicinal Compound by Combining the Juices of Apples, Oranges, Figs and Prunes. Fruit helps to keep one healthy. Fruit, in itself, will not cure disease. The medicinal principle—or that part of fruit which has a curative effect—is in such infinitesimal quantities, that it is unable to overcome a diseased condition of the stomach, liver, bowels, kidneys or skin. Just here is where science stepped in. An Ottawa physician did what nature could not do. He first found that some fruits were stronger medicinally than others—and that apples, oranges, figs and prunes contained all the healing properties of other fruits. There are two principles in fruit juices—bitter and sweet. After extracting the juices of the four fruits mentioned, this physician succeeded in replacing one atom of the sweet principle by one of the bitter. This resulted in an entirely new combination being formed. This new compound was many times more active medicinally than the fruit juices. Where eating fruit only helped to keep one well, this compound actually cured disease. To make it more valuable still, this physician added the finest tonics and antiseptics, and then, by evaporating the entire compound to a powder, made it into tablets. This, in short, is the method of making "Fruit-a-tives"—these wonderful tablets—the most reliable cure for Constipation, Biliousness, Stomach Troubles, Kidney and Bladder Disease and Skin Affections. Being made from fruit, "Fruit-a-tives" may be taken by women and children without fear of ill-effect. Don't take a substitute. If your druggist does not handle them, send 50c for a box to Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

TOTTENHAM HIT ROCK ON JAPANESE COAST

Well Known Freighter is at Kobe With Stem and Fourteen Plates Broken

AORANGI SAILS FOR AUSTRALIA

Japanese Emigration Continually Growing—Steamer Sandown in Danger of Losing Charter

The steamer Tottenham, which left Victoria after being repaired at Esquimalt, and took cargo from Portland for China, struck a rock on the Japanese coast and has reached Kobe severely damaged, according to advices received here. The Tottenham, in command of Capt. Mann, who took first prize at the last dog show held here for his Japanese toy spaniel, is one of the big freighters of the Watt-Watts Steamship company. She was tied up at Esquimalt for some time, and while here her rudder was lifted, her stern tube rebushed and other repairs made. She left here on April 22, for Comox and after loading bunker coal for her voyage to the Orient, sailed in mid-May for Japan and China. The Tottenham is badly damaged, according to reports and has been taken to the Kawasaki shipyard at Kobe, and a survey held there which showed that the stem and fourteen plates of the hull had been broken and the labor will be costly. It is probable that her cargo will be landed at Kobe and transferred to Japanese vessels for Shanghai. The cost of repairs will fall upon the owners of the steamer as the cargo insurance on its vessels is only against total loss. Two of its steamers, the Isleworth and Blackheath, were recently sold to Japanese firms for use in the rice-carrying trade from Burma to Japan. The Tottenham is one of the newer vessels of the company's fleet, having replaced a former Tottenham, which was sold in Japan and renamed. She was built in 1901 by Ropner & Sons of Stockton and is a vessel of 23 knots, 2343 tons net, 370 feet long, 55.5 feet beam and 19.2 feet deep.

CHARTER IN DANGER

Steamer Sandown Has Until End of Month to Save Her Engagement

The steamer Sandown, which left Guayaquil on Wednesday, is hurrying north to report herself ready to take lumber on board at Chemalun before the end of the month. She is chartered to load lumber at the Vancouver island mills for Australia and the charter expires on June 30. The company's fleet, having replaced a former Tottenham, which was sold in Japan and renamed. She was built in 1901 by Ropner & Sons of Stockton and is a vessel of 23 knots, 2343 tons net, 370 feet long, 55.5 feet beam and 19.2 feet deep.

FOR AUSTRALIA.

The steamer Aorangi Leaves For the Antipodes—May Not Return.

The steamer Aorangi of the Canadian-Australian line, Capt. Phillips, left last night for Honolulu, Suva, Brisbane and Sydney, carrying a cargo of 2654 tons of general cargo, and 124 passengers, of whom 19 embarked on this port. The passengers included a number of bricklayers and other mechanics attracted to San Francisco by the high wages reported prevailing there, to their homes in Australia. The cargo included shipments of machinery, grain, paper and a miscellaneous amount of Canadian manufactured goods, as well as shipments valued at over $60,000 brought from San Francisco for re-shipment. The freight was brought north by the steamers Sonoma and City of Puebla, owing to the withdrawal of the Oceanic line steamers from San Francisco to the Antipodes. Since the steamers abandoned the route passengers and freight from New Zealand for San Francisco has been brought by devious ways, mostly via Sydney and Victoria. But 33 New Zealanders reached San Francisco a few days ago by a new route. They took passage to Tahiti on the steamer Monipuri, and came from Tahiti to San Francisco by the steamer Marlboro.

INSURED AFTER SUNK

Defence in Insurance Suit Alleges Insurers Knew of Loss of Vessel

The defense of the St. Paul Fire and Marine Insurance Company in the suit brought against it by Balfour, Guthrie & Co. is that the plaintiff did not communicate with the underwriters certain facts that they had in their possession showing that the Russian fleet had destroyed a number of merchant vessels off the coast of Japan, including a steamer on which the plaintiffs subsequently obtained a policy of insurance, says the San Francisco Examiner. The suit is one in which Balfour, Guthrie & Co., representing the firm of Jardine Matheson, doing business in Japan brought suit in the United States Circuit Court to recover $4,100 from the insurance company for loss on a cargo of flour on the German steamer Arabia. The flour was shipped at Portland for Kobe and Nagasaki early in July, 1904. Later, on July 23rd, Balfour, Guthrie & Co. took out a war policy on the cargo, paying a heavy premium. The Arabia was captured by the Russian Vladivostok squadron off the coast of Japan on July 22nd, Japan time, which is July 21st, San Francisco time, or two days before the policy was issued. F. R. Wall, the attorney for the insurance company, contended that the firm of Balfour, Guthrie & Co. learned that the Russian squadron had captured several Japanese and other foreign vessels on July 22nd and did not communicate the fact to the underwriters when applying for the policy. Nathan Frank, attorney for the plaintiff, denied that his clients had knowledge of the capture. Judge Van Fleet will hear additional testimony today.

IS TOTAL LOSS

Five Masted Schooner Louis is Broken up

Advices received yesterday from San Francisco state that the five masted schooner Louis, which went ashore on Francisco beach, on the west coast of the Farallone Islands on Wednesday morning during a dense fog, has broken up. The vessel and her cargo of lumber will be a total loss. Telegrams received last night state that the steamer has entirely disappeared. The cargo of railroad ties is all strewn on the beach. The entire crew of nine men are on the island.

SICK AND ALONE

Lighthouse Keeper at Tatoosh is in Need of Relief

Reports brought by sailing masters whose work calls for visits to the Cape Flattery station, where the lighthouse is situated, are wanting relief from official sources. Weather Observer Hobbs, whose work at the Tatoosh station includes the reporting of vessels arrivals and maintenance of the Flattery light station is seriously ill. His condition at times is such that he is able to get about only with difficulty and great effort. His assistant was transferred some months ago.

FROM ROCK TO ROCK

Awful Fall of a Young French Baker in the Alps.

Geneva, June 21.—Early arrivals to climb in the Mount Blanc group learned recently of a remarkable accident on the Plan de l'Aiguille, which is 7227 feet above Chamoni. Two young and inexperienced French bakers on their way back from the summit, instead of following the broad path tried a short cut. On a precipitous slope both fell, one fortunately, upon a rock near 300 feet below being only bruised. He saw his companion bounding from rock to rock and stood 2000 feet below. Thinking he was dead he returned to Chamoni and informed the guides, who yesterday found the second victim by a miracle still living though unconscious. Carried to hospital, it was discovered that he had practically every bone broken and there is little hope of recovery.

FERRY BOATS COLLIDE

Disaster Narrowly Averted During Fog on San Francisco Bay.

In a collision between the ferryboats Cazadero and James M. Donohue last Tuesday night fifty feet of the port side of the latter vessel was torn away and three hundred passengers were thrown into a panic, says the San Francisco Examiner. The ferryboats crashed in a dense bank of fog in the bay between Alcatraz Island and Angel Island. While hundreds were drenched, and dozens were retarded with difficulty from jumping overboard with life preservers, only one man was injured, and his hurts were sustained in rescuing three passengers from what seemed certain death. Women became hysterical but were saved from their own excitement by the mad, urgent and brutal rush of men to gain the water and when all were finally transferred from the listing Donohue the crew slunk into the shadows of the cabins. Fifty feet of the port side of the Donohue was torn away so that her cabin floors were awash, her paddle wheel smashed, splinters and her hold below the water line stove in so badly that she shipped hundreds of gallons of water and was kept afloat only by the rare presence of mind of Captain Bartlett of the Cazadero, who kept his boat hugging the Donohue so closely that the latter could not go under. This trick was taught him six years ago when the contrary move caused the sinking of the ill-fated sister ship of the Donohue, the San Rafael.

REPAIRS TO THE JAMES DONOHUE

Repairs to the James Donohue will cost between $4,000 and $5,000. She is now at the Fulton Iron Works.

PRESIDENT ARRIVES

Big Pacific Coast Steamer Passed up From Cape Nome Yesterday.

Steaming at full speed the steamer President was seen from here at 7 a.m. yesterday morning passing up the straits on her way to Seattle after a fast passage from Cape Nome. Her Captain telegraphed from sea three days ago to his owners by wireless from the vessel then 1700 miles from Cape Flattery, stating that she would reach the Sound yesterday. And she did. The President is to be placed on the Seattle-Victoria and San Francisco run, and is scheduled to come here from Seattle on her way to San Francisco on Thursday next. She is to be operated in connection with the Sonoma, the big two-funnelled steamer chartered from the Oceanic Steamship company, and Umatilla, which is expected shortly from Cape Nome. In October it is intended to send the President north again on the trip. The Sonoma will be operated by the company until the steamer Governor, being constructed in the east, is ready for service. She is expected here in three months.

WANT ANOTHER JUDGE

Vancouver Lawyers Complain of the Congestion of Legal Business.

Vancouver, June 21.—The annual meeting of the Vancouver Bar Association was held yesterday afternoon at the court house when resolutions were passed urging another of the judges to come and live in Vancouver. It was pointed out that for two weeks there has been no judge here and the pressure of business was very great. Irving came up from Victoria yesterday and said that he was disposing of between forty and fifty applications. It is understood that Mr. Justice Clement, of Grand Forks is willing to come and live in Vancouver if he can secure a furnished house by the first of November. A resolution was also passed with regard to the land registry office. It was decided to ask the board of trade to join the association in pressing for a quicker return of documents from the registry office. Documents should be returned within a week, and not kept for a month or sometimes six months. The long delay greatly retards business, and it is felt that a distinct improvement should be made. A telephone has been placed in the court house for the use of members of the Bar Association. It was decided to hold the annual dinner during the month of December. E. P. Davis, K.C., and R. W. Harris were nominated for president, Mr. Davis being elected, and Mr. O'Brien, of the firm of McKay & O'Brien, was elected secretary.

RUSSIAN SHIP SAVED

Steamer Eureka Towed the Ship Fenicia From Dangerous Position

But for the timely appearance of the steamship Eureka, the bones of the Russian ship Fenicia, which passed on or Friday, June 14, from Puget Sound with lumber for Valparaiso, might now be littering the beach in the vicinity of Jagged Inlet, off the Washington coast, near Cape Flattery. The Eureka arrived at San Francisco yesterday, and the big sailing vessel had saved the big sailing vessel from destruction on the rocks. When abeam of Jagged Inlet, about 1.45 a.m. on June 16, the Eureka sighted a large sailing vessel about four miles distant, close in shore and signalling for assistance.

The Eureka changed her course and bore down upon the distressed vessel, which proved to be the Russian ship Fenicia, bound from Mukilteo for Valparaiso, with a cargo of lumber. The Eureka towed the Fenicia twenty-five miles to sea and cast the ship off at 8 p.m., with sails spread to a light north-west wind.

The Eureka on her voyage north from San Francisco sighted the schooner Buenaventura, bound for Tillamook bay, twenty-seven days from San Francisco, about fifteen miles south of the Columbia river, and about ten miles off the coast, flying her ensign upside down. The Eureka reached the distressed vessel, she found that the Buenaventura's provisions were nearly exhausted. She was given a fresh supply.

RATES ARE LOW.

U. S. Coasting Vessels Tied up Because of Poor Freight Rates.

After lying idle for almost two months the big four masted schooner Willis A. Holden, owned by the Globe Navigation company, has been chartered for a trip to Tacoma, Mexico, with lumber. She will take on her load at Mukilteo, where she now is. The Holden was laid up immediately after the coastwise lumber rates had dropped to a point which its owners considered unprofitable. Never in the history of the coastwise trade has it been known to have been as low as they are at the present time. The Holden is only one of a number of vessels already tied up when the rates hit the low notch, other owners having tied up their ships rather than have them idle at a loss. They claimed this rate was not sufficient to pay the cost of operation, aside from giving any profit. The general tie-up of the smaller schooners resulted in a large number of them going into deep water traffic, about 50 per cent. of the schooners and sailing ships that have been tied up in the coastwise trade from Puget Sound to California, carrying lumber have now gone on long voyages to Australia, China, Japan, and in many cases around Cape Horn. This has brought about a scarcity of smaller schooners on the coast for lumber carriers.

BIG SALMON CATCH

The Baldy Reached Port Yesterday With Another Large Fish Cargo.

With her hold filled to the hatches with glistening spring salmon the fish schooner Baldy, which is acting as a tender to the traps of Finlay, Durham & Brodie in the Straits, reached port yesterday and landed her cargo. The Baldy is a new vessel where Lindberger & Co. are putting up spring salmon for the German market. The Baldy brought 22 tons of spring salmon taken from the Otter point trap, which was in operation in charge of Capt. Rucker, a month before other traps were driven. Catches from other traps are expected in port today.

SHAWMUT SAILS TODAY

Will Have Loaded to Her Capacity on Present Voyage to Far East.

The steamer Shawmut of the Boston Steamship company is to sail today, and she will be loaded to her capacity. At Tacoma the steamer loaded 8,550 tons of general freight and at Seattle 5,500 tons was taken on board. The principal item of the Shawmut's cargo is flour. She has 300,000 sacks for delivery at Manila. At Tacoma the Shawmut loaded in addition to flour and other general cargo, 855,000 feet of lumber and 4,000 cases of milk. Large shipments of U. S. government stores have been loaded on the Shawmut for delivery at Manila, including army and navy supplies. The navy supplies consist largely of machinery.

TOWS TWO BARGES

Steamer Leelanaw Will Take Both John C. Potter and Two Brothers North.

The steamer Leelanaw owned by the Pacific Freighting company of this city, will take two barges north, the John C. Potter, of this city, and the Two Brothers, also of this port, both bound for Alaskan ports on Puget Sound. The John C. Potter is taking 1200 tons of coal and coke, and the Two Brothers has a general cargo. Returning from the north it is expected a call will be made at several mines and full cargoes of ore for the Tacoma smelter brought south.

MARINE NOTES

The Canadian Ivernia reached Boston yesterday with 2,035 passengers. Empress of Britain from Liverpool, landed 1550 passengers at Quebec at 12:30 yesterday afternoon.

The steamer Lawton bought by the Pacific Mail Steamship Company is to be used with the steamer Columbia in service between San Francisco and Portland. The steamer Yosemite arrived at Astoria from San Francisco Tuesday morning to load lumber. After passing by the city her captain did not take the regular channel to the mill, but attempted to skirt along close to the wharves. He went wide of all the buoys, having no ranges, and went hard aground about the site of the old Silvia de Grasse wreck and reef.

The Yosemite is still aground, but is taking no water. She is not believed to have received any damage, although she went on at nearly high water. The tides are now increasing and it is predicted that she will come off shortly.

Fishing steamer Grant, Capt. Wedling, arrived at Seattle, Thursday, from the harbor near Tacoma, bringing 180,000 pounds of fish. Most of the fishing was done off the banks at Goose Island, B. C., says the Seattle Post Intelligencer.

The disabled steamer Santa Barbara has been towed into Drake's Bay. She broke her tail shaft off Point Grey when on her way to San Francisco.

A new steamship line is proposed to operate between Boston and New York to be known as the Independent Navigation company. It will aim especially at freight traffic. Byron D. Pitts, of the firm of Pitts & Co., will be general manager of the new company. A telegram received yesterday from Montevideo reports that the British ship Dynamene, from Shields for San Francisco, had put back to the South American port in distress, but was on her way to the J. W. line, which does not readily get rid of the impression, in view of the force of use and custom, that the Oriental emigrant for a long time have a hankering preference for many things from his own country.

"The Nippon, an influential paper at Tokyo, regards the present as an 'epoch-making opportunity in the history of Japanese emigration,' and says in substance that legislative exclusion from America (United States) taken for a fact forces upon Japan the necessity of turning attention to other countries.

"The Kokumin (The Nation), 'Friend,' however, foresees that with the extent of undertakings in Korea and Manchuria, in the near future there will come active demand for Japanese labor, and that the falling supply of European labor in the several states of South America will leave a wide open field for the surplus labor in view of the American (United States) industrial interests are warned that the time will come when it will be more difficult to get Japanese labor than it now is to exclude it.

The steamer Bell-ophon of the Blue Funnel line, which is discharging a large amount of general cargo at the ocean dock will leave on Sunday morning for the Sound. She will take on 2000 barrels of whale oil for Glasgow 250 tons of herrings from Nanaimo for the Orient and some general freight at the ocean dock. The steamer Cyclops of the Blue Funnel line, from Tacoma and Victoria for Liverpool reached Rangoon on Tuesday on her way to the Marsee.

The steamer Theben, which is expected to reach the Sound next Friday from Hong Kong, via San Francisco, was to have been placed in the dry dock at Esquimalt to be cleaned and painted, but the steamer Northwestern has the dock. The Theben has a shipment of 500 tons of glass for Puget Sound from Germany in her cargo.

Violent Form of itching Piles

Rev. S. A. Duprau, Methodist minister, Belleville, Ont., writes: "I was troubled with itching and bleeding piles for years and they ultimately attained a very violent form. Large lumps or abscesses gathered and I suffered great pain. A single box of Dr. Chase's Ointment cured me and saved me from a very dangerous and painful operation. The lumps and swelling disappeared and I am an entirely different man."

JAPANESE INVASION.

Emigration of Japanese to This Side of Pacific on the Increase.

Every Oriental liner from Japan of late has carried large contingents of Japanese and immigrants on the liner and the Shikano Maru, which is expected to arrive from Yokohama on Tuesday next, has over 300 on board. It is from Honolulu that the largest individual shipments of Japanese laborers are expected. The French steamer Amiral Jauregui is on the way with over 300, and the steamer Kumeri, which is scheduled to leave Honolulu next week under charter to an association of Japanese hotel-keepers of the Hawaiian port will probably bring over 2,000. Over 1,500 Japanese had booked passage to Victoria and Vancouver by this vessel prior to the sailing of the last steamer from the islands. British Columbia is not receiving the bulk of the emigrants from Japan on this side of the

BUILD ANOTHER OUTLET FOR THE G. T. PACIFIC

English Company to Construct Road From Edmunston, N. B., to Gaspe

Ottawa, June 21.—The Exchequer court has given a decision confirming the agreement of sale of the Atlantic & Lake Superior railway in the Gaspe Peninsula. This clears a tangle of ten years' standing between shareholders, bondholders and other creditors of the system, enables a new company, the Atlantic, Quebec and Western Railway Company to acquire a clear title, and what is more important, will enable the new company to carry out a plan of completing an extra outlet for the Grand Trunk Pacific. It is proposed to connect with this line at Edmunston, New Brunswick, build from there to Metapedia, use the existing line from that point to Port Daniel and build from Port Daniel to Gaspe. It is claimed that a dead level line can be built in this way to the coast which will terminate on a port that is open for nine months of the year. The line will be a good deal shorter than that by the Grand Trunk Pacific and Intercolonial from Edmunston to either St. John or Halifax.

The new company, called the Atlantic, Quebec & Western, which has acquired the rights of the Atlantic & Lake Superior, is an English company with British backing. British ideas for railway construction and operation. It has ample capital to carry out its plan of making Gaspe one of the important exporting points of Canada. The company has given good evidence of its capacity and sincerity. Last summer it built twenty miles of line from New Carlisle to Port Daniel. This was built without subsidy or government aid and is said to be the most substantial piece of railway ever constructed in Canada. This summer, work is being continued, and it is expected that next year the line will be run into Gaspe. The old line from New Carlisle to Metapedia is to be straightened, the grades are to be reduced, heavy rails laid, substantial bridges put in and the line altogether brought up to the English standard. Last session authority was obtained from parliament to construct a line from Metapedia to Edmunston and the route map is now before the deputy minister of railways for approval. When this is given, as it doubtless will be, with few, if any changes, the company will begin construction immediately across the northern portion of New Brunswick.

When completed the line will have a length of 210 miles. The distance to be built from Edmunston to Metapedia is 110 miles, a railroad exists from Metapedia to Port Daniel, a distance of 120 miles, and there is under contract the remaining stretch from Port Daniel to Gaspe, a distance of 80 miles. The company will, in addition to its railway, own and operate a line of steamships between Great Britain and Gaspe. That port is open for ten months of the year at least, and the promoters of the project believe that it can be made use of for the other two months of the year. It has the advantage of being the Canadian port nearest to Europe.

OFFENDERS WERE FINED.

Carried Too Much Luggage and Caused Inconvenience.

Paris, June 21.—Travelers in railway carriages who have been frequently inconvenienced by the excessive luggage of others, have had their grievance avenged by a decision of one of the Paris courts, which has condemned twenty messengers to a fine of twenty-five francs for excessive and cumbersome baggage. It appears that the two messengers in question formed part of a regular organization which carried on a voluminous traffic between Paris and Lyons, and filled travelling compartments with immense parcels of merchandise instead of paying for their transit in the goods van. Each man used to enter a carriage with six or eight immense parcels that filled the whole compartment, and scarcely left room for the ordinary passenger's luggage. The railway company discovered the trick and prosecuted the offenders. The court promptly decided

No water quite equals York Springs Water for table use. It is a natural water, bottled at the Springs for surety of purity; it has no salty taste whatever; and it reaches you sparkling, crisp, refreshing—a safe and satisfying water for you and your family. Your dealer will supply you if you insist. York Springs Water is better—yet costs no more that it was time to correct the abuse, and the judges, in remarking on the case, said that by taking up more space than they were entitled to, the messengers had infringed on the rights of the travelling public. The offenders, in addition to the fine, will also have to pay for the expense of posting up a notice of the judgment at twenty-five different places along the line.

WHY WOMEN TALK.

Can Keep It Up Four Times as Long as Men.

London, June 21.—Woman has often been jokingly accused of being able to wag her tongue to an enormous and occasionally annoying extent, but it comes as somewhat of a surprise to learn that her ability in this direction is no fallacy, but an undoubted scientific fact.

In the course of his investigations into the human voice, Dr. Marage, the inventor of voice telegraphy, has discovered that a woman can talk four times as long as a man, and only expend the same energy.

It appears to be merely a question of the amount of air which escapes from the lungs during phonation, and as a woman's larynx is narrower than a man's, and a child's than a woman's, it is evident why children can prattle for hours at a time; and why women can maintain the fatigue of conversation so much more easily than a man.

Some of the doctor's experiments were devoted to determining the effort expended on speaking. This appears, is the product of the volume of air which escapes from the lungs, and the pressure required to emit it. He finds that you expend the same energy when you talk for an hour or lift a weight of half an ounce three feet in the air every second.

When a lady plays with her fan, or when a professor gesticulates the energy expended is greater than that. When an orator speaks in a hall he works as much as a porter who shoulders luggage weighing four hundredweight.

Mexico's Centenary

Mexico City, June 21.—President Diaz has issued a proclamation proposing a great celebration to commemorate the centennial of the republic's independence. The ceremonies will be named after the date of the birth of the nation, September 15, 1910. All citizens are expected to contribute towards the fund.

SAVAGE DOCTORS.

How the Yellow Fever Was Cured by Certain Herbs.

On February 1, 1902, the Lancet published a statement from Dr. O'Sullivan Beare, Vice-Consul at Remba, telling how a remedy for blackwater fever had been found, but not by European science. Among the official preparations there was none on which reliance could be placed.

But Dr. Beare heard from an intelligent Arab that the natives of some inland district possessed a cure. The remedy was a decoction from the root of a species of cassia, which has been named Cassia Beareana. Per O., of the Catholic mission, tried the first experiment on a German "in the last extremity." He was out of danger in 48 hours and quite himself in six days.

Jacques Cartier tells how a friendly Indian pointed out to him a tree when very nearly all his crew had died of scurvy. An infusion of its bark saved the rest. So the yellow fever cured on Drake's vessel when the Caribs of Dominica gave him "certain herbs known to them."

As for the drumming, howling, dancing of savage doctors, those were the special delight of the black man while in health, and his friends might naturally suppose that they would cheer him up when ill. The object avowed is to scare away evil spirits; but diverting the sufferer would be an explanation may apply to the comic performances. Imagination has great influence over disease; it is not improbable that the naked races have long been familiar with that as with other secrets of psychology.

INHERITANCE OF THE DOG.

Some Breeds Are Born With Strong Friendship for Man.

By the environment of his forbears for generations back you may know the dog, says the Chicago Chronicle. An Eskimo or sledge dog, or a Chihuahua, could never create the deep friendship that is cherished by an old English sheep dog or collie, or a bulldog, or a terrier is capable of inspiring.

Years before any of us were thought of the sledge dog was a beast of burden, tolerated because human lives depended on his "motor" power. He grudgingly the necessary wherewithal to keep his "machinery" in good order and treated not as a companion, but as a pariah and as a brute without feeling, without thought, without hope. How expectant of these half-starved, cuffed and buffeted animals not to shrink from the uplifted hand and treat with suspicion all friendly overtures? All man has done for him and his forbears has been to play the brute and make life a weary bondage.

And in all parts of the globe where the struggle for life is most desperate, and people, according to our estimate, are brutes or semi or whole savage, so are the dogs of that people. Persian wolfhounds, chow chows, "dingoes" in the "wilds of Australia, Tibet, mastiffs all more or less dread man, who many years ago beat them into subjection, not affection.

With the $500, $1,000 and $2,000 champions and their brothers, sisters and cousins who claim prizes at bench shows, the story is different. Neither they nor their ancestors have known what it was to turn cannibals to avert starvation. Man did not beat them into drudgery. Man warned to them and they gave their all to man. And of the 2,000 dogs gathered together from here, there and everywhere there were probably not a dozen who would churlishly snarl at a stranger's greeting.

THE ARISTOCRACY OF CHARACTER.

There is an aristocracy of wealth, an aristocracy of culture, an aristocracy of labor and an aristocracy of character. The aristocracy of character is the aristocracy of heaven. It is carved out of the vital forces and built on the fundamental. It is the only thing which endures; character is the most powerful thing in the world. John Wesley was carried to his grave by six poor men. He left behind him two silver spoons—and the Methodist church! O what an illustration of power and influence. According to the will of Martin Luther, he left behind him (if we may use his own words), "No ready money, no coin, no treasure of any sort." And yet what a treasure of influence is wrapped up in that name—Martin Luther. Character is success. Character is immortal. Character is everlasting. He who has it belongs to the aristocracy of the skies.—James L. Gordon.

Chinaman's Narrow Escape.

The Chinese cook of the steamer Iroquois had a narrow escape from drowning early Wednesday morning while the boat was tied up at the Sidney wharf. John was up town rather late, and when attempting to step aboard the Iroquois missed the gang-plank and fell headlong into the water. He was struggling in the water fully five minutes when his cries for help were heard by the first mate of the steamer who as speedily as possible pulled the unfortunate Chinaman out of the water more dead than alive.

Yorkshire Picnic.

The Yorkshire Society of British Columbia, at meeting held last night, decided to hold a picnic at the Gorge on Saturday, July 6, when the Yorkshire folk and their friends are expected to be present and participate in a jolly time, with sports and prizes in addition to the disposal of the contents of the usual liberal baskets of provender.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

More Water in Sight

Sir,—In your editorial re Water this morning, I hardly think the situation warrants the statement that "there is no remedy in sight." Within the next thirty days the question of Victoria's right to Goldstream will be argued before the Privy Council and it is reasonable to suppose that a decision will shortly follow, that it will be favorable to the city. I have little doubt. This will dispose of the legal aspect. It will then be for the city to exercise its right to arbitrate for the expenditure made by the Esquimalt Water company. While this is going on arrangements can be made for surveys, pipes, etc. By the end of the year all the contracts should be let, and within eighteen months water should be flowing into the city from a source which all must agree is the natural point of supply for years to come. If on the other hand the decision should go against the city and the Esquimalt Water company still refuse to sell at a reasonable price for their works, then appeal to the legislature to be reinstated in the position the rate-payers always considered they were entitled to. The city take water anywhere within twenty miles of Victoria. No legislature would refuse a request of this kind for a moment. Therefore look at the case anyway you like. It is safe to say that within two years there will be plenty of water. I know it should be now, but steps were not begun soon enough. In the meantime, the pump being installed at Elk Lake will help matters out. D. R. KER.

Oxydonor

Treats Life.

Plenty of Oxygen in the system, with oxygenated blood, means life. OXYDONOR causes the whole system to drink freely of oxygen from the air. OXYDONOR thus causes disease to disappear, by bracing the vital process. By the proper use of OXYDONOR, anyone can maintain his vitality and make disease a mere inconvenience of duration.

Thousands of men and women are today enjoying independence from medication and disease, by having in their own hands the means of curing themselves of all ills.

Mrs. CLARK, 25 Argyle St., Toronto, Ont., writes: "I cannot speak too highly of your Oxydonor No. 2. Through the advice of a friend I purchased one. After using going on an operation for a cancerous growth on the uterus, it has strengthened me wonderfully. It has also scattered various veins which I have had very bad for many years; my legs are better now at the age of fifty-four than they have been for twenty years."

OXYDONOR may be carried in the pocket and used at any time without delay, but is usually applied while you sleep. Write for our descriptive book, mailed you without cost.

Beware of fraudulent imitations. There is but one genuine OXYDONOR, and that has the name of the originator and inventor—Dr. H. Sanche—engraved in the metal.

WELLINGTON J. DOWLER, C.M.C. City Clerk's Office, Victoria, B. C., June 19th, 1907.

A BY-LAW

To enable the Borrowing of a Further Sum of $50,000. Secured upon the Frontage Rents or Taxes and Sewer Connection Rents with the Guarantee of the City of Victoria.

Whereas it is intended to borrow upon the security of the frontage rents or taxes and sewer connection rents imposed by the Sewers By-Law, 1902 (No. 400) the further sum of $50,000, to be expended in the extension of the sewers within the City of Victoria;

And whereas it is proposed to give the guarantee of the Corporation for securing the moneys so intended to be borrowed, And whereas the said "Sewers By-Law, 1902" was validated by Section 29 of Chapter 42 of the Statutes of 1903-4 in so far as frontage rents or taxes and sewer connection rents are thereby assessed and levied upon the owners of land and buildings, and power was given by the recited section to revoke and rescind the assessment and levy made by the said recited By-Law upon owners of land and buildings, and such assessment and levy upon said occupiers was accordingly rescinded by the Sewers By-Law, 1902 Amendment By-Law, 1907 (Numbered 424);

And whereas the amount of the said frontage rents or taxes and sewer connection rents, chargeable for the year 1906 is estimated at $15,000, and sums aggregating $300,000 have been already raised upon the security of the same under the provisions of the Sewers Loan Guarantee By-Law, 1902 (Numbered 402) and the "Sewer Loan Guarantee By-Law, 1903" (Numbered 456).

And whereas the moneys intended to be borrowed pursuant to this By-Law are to be primarily charged and levied upon the frontage rents or taxes and sewer connection rents, assessed and levied and to be collected annually under the authority of the said "Sewers By-Law, 1902" now unamended amounting to $3,622.

And whereas the amount required to be collected annually from the said frontage rents or taxes and sewer connection rents to pay the interest upon the said debts aggregating $300,000, and to repay the said debt by sinking fund within fifty years is $13,000, and the amount required to be collected to pay the interest upon the said additional sum of $50,000 and to repay the said additional debt by sinking fund is $2,728, making together the annual sum of $15,728, and it is estimated that there will not be any deficiency.

And whereas it is proposed to borrow the said sum of $50,000, upon debentures as hereinafter appearing:

And whereas, by the said recited By-Law No. 400, the said frontage rents or taxes and sewer connection rents when received are directed to be carried to a joint fund entitled "The Sewer Rental and Sewer Tax Fund," and are to be expended in the extension of the sewerage system of the city, and the construction and maintenance of the same, and in providing for the payment of the principal, interest and sinking funds where moneys are borrowed on the security of the same, in such manner and at such time or times as the Municipal Council shall from time to time think expedient. And it is desired by this By-Law to give effect to such provisions:

Therefore the Municipal Council of the Corporation of the City of Victoria enacts as follows:

1. The moneys raised under this By-Law shall be expended in the construction of sewers and for the purposes generally mentioned in this By-Law, and for no other purpose.

2. It shall be lawful for the Mayor of the Corporation of the City of Victoria to borrow upon the security, primarily, of the said frontage rents or taxes and sewer connection rents, and by way of guarantee upon the credit of the said Corporation by way of the debentures hereinafter mentioned, from any person or persons, body or bodies corporate, who may be willing to advance the same as a loan, a sum of money not exceeding in the whole sum of $50,000, currency or sterling money (at the rate of 1.8623 dollars to the one pound sterling) and to cause all such sums so raised or received to be paid into the hands of the Treasurer of the said Corporation, to be held as a fund for the purpose and with the object hereinafter referred to. The said guarantee of the City to be contained in the said debentures shall be in the following terms, or as near thereto as may be:

"The payment of the principal moneys and interest thereon under this debenture at the respective dates when the same fall due under the terms of this debenture, is hereby guaranteed by the Corporation of the City of Victoria."

3. It shall be lawful for the said Mayor to cause any number of debentures to be made, executed and issued for such sum or sums as may be required, not exceeding, however, the sum of $50,000, either in currency or sterling money (at the rate of 1.8623 dollars to the one pound sterling), and such debentures being of the amount of $500.00 or its sterling equivalent at the rate aforesaid, and all such debentures shall be sealed with the seal of the said Corporation and signed by the Mayor thereof.

4. The said debentures shall bear date of the day after the final passing of this By-Law, and shall be payable in fifty years from the date of such date, either in the Dominion of Canada, Great Britain, or the United States of America, as may be designated thereon, and shall have attached thereto the signatures of the Mayor and the signatures of the interest coupons may be either written, stamped, printed or lithographed.

5. The said debentures shall bear interest at the rate of four per cent per annum, and the interest thereon shall be payable half-yearly at such place, either in the Dominion of Canada, Great Britain, or the United States of America, as may be expressed in the debenture and coupon.

6. It shall be lawful for the said Mayor to cause the said debentures and the interest coupons, either or both, to be made payable at such place, either in the Dominion of Canada, Great Britain, or the United States of America, as may be expressed in the debenture and coupon.

7. It shall be lawful for the Mayor of the said Corporation to discount or to authorize the Treasurer to pay out of the sums so raised by the sale of the said debentures all expenses connected with the preparation and lithographing of the debentures and coupons, or any discount or commission or other charges incidental to the sale of the said debentures.

8. So much of the moneys collected for and received by the City Treasurer under the provisions of the said "Sewers By-Law, 1902" (No. 400) as shall, after complying with the directions contained in the said "Sewer Loan Guarantee By-Law, 1902" and "Sewer Loan Guarantee By-Law, 1903" be sufficient to provide the annual interest on the moneys so borrowed upon the security of the said debentures and the annual sinking fund for the payment of the principal moneys due upon the said debentures shall immediately on receipt thereof, be set aside by the said City Treasurer and placed by him to a separate account with the bankers of the Corporation of Victoria, and thereon shall be paid the coupons of interest upon the said debentures or borrowed moneys as the same shall from time to time fall due, and the moneys to provide the said annual sinking fund shall be placed on deposit, and with the interest thereon shall be allowed to accumulate, and thereon shall be paid the principal moneys borrowed under the said debentures shall from time to time become due.

9. This By-Law shall, before the final passing thereof, receive the assent of the electors of the said Corporation, in the manner provided for in the Municipal Clauses Act, and shall take effect on the day after the final passing thereof.

10. This By-Law may not be altered or repealed save with the consent of the Lieutenant-Governor in Council.

11. This By-Law shall be cited as the "Sewer Loan Guarantee By-Law, 1907."

Passed the Municipal Council the 17th day of June, 1907.

NOTICE.

Take notice that the above is a true copy of the proposed By-law, upon which the vote of the Municipality will be taken at the Public Market Building, Cormorant Street, in Room No. 7, on Wednesday the 27th day of July, 1907; that the poll will be kept open between the hours of 9 a.m. and 7 p.m., and that William W. FRENCH BATTALION

IN OPEN REBELLION

Defies All Authority Through Sympathy With Wine Growers' Movement

Paris, June 21.—A battalion of the seventeenth infantry regiment stationed at Adge, in the department of Herault, has deserted with its arms and ammunition and joined the insurgent wine growers at Beziers, headquarters of the regiment. The mutineers who were mostly recruited among the wine growers, number about 400 men. They marched into Beziers, which has about 50,000 inhabitants, with drums beating and colors flying, and are now camped in the principal square of the city, with stacked arms. The deserters tried to enlist the sympathy of the remainder of the regiment stationed at Beziers, but failing to do so, were promptly ejected from their barracks. Early this afternoon the sub-prefect of Beziers notified premier Clemenceau that the mutineers had offered to return to Adge on condition that they were not punished. A little later they renewed their demand to be allowed to reoccupy their former barracks at Beziers. Clemenceau curtly replied that he refused to parley with deserters or consider any proposal but unconditional surrender, adding that he was determined to utilize all the country's forces if necessary in order to suppress the uprising.

Details of the uprising show that a battalion of the 17th infantry regiment sent from Beziers to Adge on account of sympathy with the local wine growers, mutinied there this morning, raised the magazine, filled their pouches with cartridges and with fixed bayonets and flags flying marched out of Adge and entered Beziers. When notified of the mutiny Gen. Croisade, commanding the 61st brigade, met the mutineers at the village and attempted to persuade them to return to duty.

"Soldiers," he commanded, "kill me or obey me." The soldiers replied that they had no desire to kill him but were determined to return to Beziers. A detachment of gendarmes tried to bar the road, but after the mutineers' harshly announced their intention to remain on the square until allowed to reoccupy their barracks, whence they were recently transferred. The people gave the mutineers the warmest welcome, furnished them with ample provisions and a supply of straw upon which the three soldiers threw themselves after stationing pickets and proclaiming a determination to defend their lives in the event of being attacked.

CABRERA DYING

Guatemalan President Reported to be in Extremis

Mexico City, June 21.—President Estrada Cabrera, of Guatemala, is dying. This startling statement was made last night by Jose D. Gomez, who is in the city as confidential agent of President Zelaya, of Nicaragua. Mr. Gomez claims to have received information from an unquestionable source to the effect that President Cabrera is suffering from blood poisoning which followed the extraction of a tooth.

According to Mr. Gomez, President Cabrera has not left the executive mansion for eight days. This was further corroborated by a Spanish planter, who recently arrived from Guatemala. He declared that Cabrera's illness in a measure counts for some recent atrocities said to have been committed by him. This man says that those who know believe that Cabrera realizing his condition is recklessly wreaking vengeance upon his enemies.

Nothing is known in official circles of Cabrera's reported illness.

HIS SIMPLE SYSTEM

Police Were Ready When Man Called For His Money

London, June 21.—Continuous luck in always finding the winner led to Henry Warner, a tailor, of Henage street, Spitalfields, being charged at Marlborough street with alleged betting frauds.

According to the evidence the frauds were ingeniously worked by telegram. One man used to send a wire to a firm of turf agents, but the message would be intercepted and the message altered after the race had been run.

The suspicions of the turf agent were roused, because when the telegram was dropped into the letter box he heard the sound of a messenger's hob-nailed boots. He looked out of the window, and saw the back of the man who was going round the corner, as if he had just left the office, but no messenger.

The result was that when the prisoner called for his money the police were ready for him. He was committed for trial.

TORONTO'S WATER SUPPLY.

Famine Threatened Before New Tunnel Can Be Completed.

Toronto, June 21.—The completion of the new water tunnel across the bay cannot be made any too soon. The tone of Waterworks Engineer Fellowes this morning, in discussing the water supply situation, was by no means encouraging. At the present time there is only 10 feet of water in the reservoir. When there should be between 18 and 20 feet. As a result of this residents in the northwestern part of the city are complaining about low pressure, and are anxious to know when there will be any improvement. "We are pumping all we can pump now," said Engineer Fellowes, "and I cannot give any assurance of improvement till the new tunnel is completed."

Restaurant Responsible For Safety of Guests' Overcoats, Etc.

Toronto, June 21.—Notice on the menu cards of a cafe that the management is not responsible for hats, coats, umbrellas or other property of guests does not relieve the house of liability. Judge Morson ruled in the Division court today, giving judgment against O'Neill & Co., of the St. Charles restaurant, for $40 in favor of W. D. Greer. The latter one evening last January attended a dinner at the cafe, leaving his fur-lined coat, Persian lamb cap and gauntlets with the wraps of the rest of the guests on a rack in the hall. When he prepared to go home they were gone. The fact that racks were provided, said the judge, constituted an invitation to use them.
